MISS WITHERSPOON WEDS MACK PATTON

Miss Sarah Witherspoon, daughter of Mrs. Donald Witherspoon, of Murphy, and of the late Mr. Witherspoon, became the bride of Mack Slagle Patton, son of Robert A. Patton, of Franklin, and of the late Mrs. Patton, last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the Murpny Presbyterian church, with the bride's pastor, the Rev. Mr. Tate, officiating.

The vows were spoken before an altar banked with greenery and baskets of fern and white gladioli. Candelabra holding lighted white cathedral tapers were used in the background, with the effect of the candlelight heightened by the darkening of the windows through use of the masses of laurel, pine, and ivy that filled them.

Mrs. R. H. Foard, pianist, and Miss Emogene Bates, soloist, presented a program of wedding music, "The Rosary", "Traumeral", and "To a Wild Rose", and Miss Bates sang "Because" just prior to the entrance of the wedding party. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, Edward Madden, of Little Rock, Ark., wore a gown of white net made with lace bodice and yoke and sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves, and full skirt extending into a circular train. Her long veil was attached to a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and callalilies, tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Mary Bernice Northcross, of Memphis, Tenn., was maid of honor. She wore a pale blue gown with matching gloves of the same material and carried a bouquet of mixed garden flowers, while her headdress was of white daisies.

Miss Annie Ruth Kestler, of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Lucy Winston, of Murphy, the bridesmaids, wore gowns of pink net and crepe and carried bouquets of painted daisies.

The flower girl, Donna Madden, niece of the bride, wore blue net and carried a nosegay of mixed garden flowers. Lewis Patton was his brother's best man, and ushers were Siler Slagle, of Franklin, and Lemuel Goode, of Murphy.

The bride attended the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina, and was graduated from the University, at Chapel Hill.

The groom, who is a graduate of N. C. State college, served two and a half years in the armed forces. He is now assistant county agent in Cherokee county.

The couple will live in Murphy.
