Newton, the classes decided to have them cut the cakes into the requisite number of even slices for serving.

The hand-made place cards were in the shape of candles which opened in the form of a book, revealing the program, the menu, class officers, and two pages for autographs. Victrola records furnished the dinner music.

After the banquet, the two classes and their guests were entertained with a theatre party by Mr. Summer.

Guests were members of the school committee and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Potts, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Anderson, high school teachers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Summer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Talley, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newton, and Mrs. A. W. Pierson and Miss Ruth Crawford.
