GARDEN CORN

Tendergold Hybrid Yellow Sweet Corn 76 Days.

There are only three words to actually describe this corn—sweet, tender, succulent. It is an early corn—ripens about four days ahead of golden bantam—and yields about twice as much. It has attractive ears about eight inches long, with deep, sweet kernels. Often gets premium prices on the market. Stays sweet and tender two to three days longer than most kinds.

Golden Bantam—80 Days

Hybrid Golden Cross Bantam—85 Days

Hybrid Silver Cross Bantam—86 Days

Aristogold Bantam Evergreen—85 Days

If you want to amaze your neighbors with truly big ears of some of the sweetest, most tender sweet corn you ever tried, plant this. These ears are from 9 to 10 inches long, with 16 to 18 rows on every ear. Yet it's as tender and good eating as the most fancy on the market. And what yields! Under good conditions it has produced as much as 10 tons of snapped ears to the acre. It is easy to grow, and stands hot, dry weather.
