$100,000 Street, Water And Sewer Work Under Way

Will Start Next Week Laying 22,000 Feet Of Water Mains

Franklin's $100,000 street-wat er-sewer improvement program, now under way, is expected to be completed by mid-summer, engineers indicated this week.

The program calls for about four miles of street surfacing on eight streets now unpaved; the laying of approximately 22,000 feet of water line, much of it serving areas not now served with town water; and 6,592 feet of extension of the sewer sys-tem on two streets, West Main and Green.

The sewer work will be completed the last of this week, it was announced by J. M. Richards, Jr., local engineer in charge of the work, which is being done under the supervision of Harwood Beebe, municipal engineers of Spartanburg, S. C. The Asheville Paving company has the construction con-tract.

A new stone base course has been added on the streets to be paved, Mr. Richards said, and pipe is now being received for the water mains, and work will start the first of next week extending the water system. The first water project to be begun is on East Main street, and thence to the Van Raalte plant, Will Require 2 Months

While the water lines are being laid, Mr. Richards said, the stone base course will be given time to settle. Work on the water lines is expected to require a month and a half or two months, and when that is completed, the street paving will be finished.

The paving contract calls for four to six inches of stone, including the existing base, covered with a bituminous surface of about one inch, with a seal coat as the final operation. The completed pavement will be of the asphalt type.

Work on most of the streets to be paved was begun before —Continued On Page Eight

Mr. and Mrs. Lind, who are on a national tour, will give a demonstration in Murphy Sat-urday.

Mrs. Jones

Reelected President P. T. A.

Members of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association, at Monday night's meeting, elected Mrs. Weimar Jones as president for another term, chose Mrs. Allen Siler as vice-president, re-elected Mrs. John Bulgin as secretary, and named W. Emory Hunnicutt as treasurer.

Those elected are the ones suggested by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. John M. Archer, Jr.
Other features of the meeting were a program on student conduct guidance, conducted by Principal George H. Hill, and teachers and students, and re-ports by chairmen of standing committees on the year's work. Mr. Hill explained the efforts of the school faculty to develop in the students the capacity to meet properly honesty and courpresent mimeographed copies of a list of such situations pre-sented to the students for consideration. Miss Esther Wallace told how the program functions in the elementary grades, and students of Mrs. Clinton John-son presented a skit illustrating courtesy and discourtesy.

The association went on record as backing the proposed first aid, water safety, and accident prevention program of the Red Cross. The devotional was conducted by the Rev. C. E. Parker.

In order to avoid conflict with commencement activities, the next meeting was set for the first Monday, May 5.

Will Let Contracts For Electric Project In Southern Macon

Work is expected to start soon on the construction by the Rural Electrification administration of 80 miles of electric line to provide service for about 350 families in the southern end of this county.

A. Claude Patterson, who has been engaged in obtaining easements from property owners for the line, said the REA has notified him a survey will start about the first of May, and that shortly thereafter construction bids will be sought.

The line will serve parts of Highlands and Smith Bridge townships and all of Flats township, Mr. Patterson said.

The project is under the Waynesville REA, which serves three countles, and the REA will buy its electric current from the Nantahala Power and Light company, tieing in with that firm's lines near Highlands, on the Highlands-Dillard road, Mr. Patterson explained.

The REA will seek bids, he said, on clearing the right-of-ways; on erecting the poles; and on stringing the wire.

The project is the outgrowth of a sign-up, two years ago, when 355 families in the area to be served requested the service. At that time, the REA made aerial maps of the region.

Church Services, Club Meetings, Athletics Planned

Starting with services in the churches Sunday and ending Saturday of next week with an athletic field day, Boys' and Girls' week will be observed in this county April 27 to May 3. The local observance of the national event is sponsored by the Franklin Rotary and Lions clubs.

The week is designed to emphasize the idea that youth are the trustees of posterity, with four specific objects: To focus public attention upon the potentialities and problems of boys and girls; to give impetus to year-round programs of character building; to emphasize the importance of sound bodies, trained minds, and spiritual growth; and to stress the need of instilling in youth love of country and respect for its laws and institutions.

Special services will be held Sunday in all of the churches in Franklin and many elsewhere in the county. Bob S. Sloan, E. J. Whitmire, and Don Allison will speak at three churches on the Franklin Methodist circuit.

Monday evening the annual charter of the cub scouts will be presented to the Lions club, cubs' sponsor, at a picnic sup-per at Arrowood, where the cubs will serve as hosts. Adults and boys will meet at the Methodist church at 7 p. m. for the trip to Arrowood.

Wednesday evening at 6:45 the boy scouts will serve supper to members of the Rotary club, the scouts' sponsor, at the Slagle memorial. The program will feature presentation of the scout troop's charter to the Ro-

Finley Named Franklin Principal; Summer, Shope Reelected

The county board of education Wednesday reelected Guy L. Houk as Macon County superintendent of schools.

The vote was 4 to 1. The board reelected the present superintendent without taking action on the much discussed suggestion that the office of superintendent be made a full-time position.

Nine applications were before the board, but none of these was considered at the 30-minute executive session during which the election was held, Chairman C. Gordon Moore said afterward. The entire period, Mr. Moore said, was devoted to discussing whether the superintendent should be required to devote his time to the duties of that office, and whether to reelect the present superinten-

SLOAN MAKES STATEMENT Bob S. Sloan, lone board member to oppose Mr. Houk's reelection, made the following statement after Wednesday's meeting:

"I opposed Mr. Houk's re-election because of the fail-ure of the board to require the superintendent to accept the position on a full-time basis—a policy which I have stood for since filing as a candidate for the board of education. I urged the board to adopt this policy before selecting any man to fill the position of superintendent of schools of Macon County."

ing George H. Hill. Also approved were the reelections, by the Highlands and Nantahala committees of O. F. Summer and Weaver Shope, respectively, as principals in those districts.

When the board meeting opened at 10 a.m. in the su-perintendent's office, Chairman Moore read the applications of the following nine persons: C. C. Poindexter, of Waynesville, Charles A. Elmore, of Elizabeth City, J. H. Moore, of Farmville, J. H. Harwood, of Bryson City, Carroll E. Love, of Tate, Ga., L. Milton Hauser, of Spartanburg, S. C., William Way, Jr., of Highlands and the University of Tennessee, I. B. Hudson, of Andrews, and J. D. Warrick, of Robbinsville. Mr. Hudson and Mr. Warrick's statements asked that their applications be considered only if a vacancy were declared. Eight of the nine, it is understood, are engaged in school work and meet the qualifica-tions set up by the state for county superintendents.

Cites Record
Mr. Houk, who had filed no written application, told the board, just before it went into executive session, that he stood on his record, "I have no apol-ogies to offer."

After the reading of the applications, Bob S. Sloan moved that the board go into executive session to consider the applications. The motion, seconded by Walter Gibson, was carried, and the two reporters present and Mr. Houk were asked to retire. It was at this point that Mr. Houk made his brief statement to the board members.

At the end of the 30-minute excutive session, Mr. Moore announced that Mr. Houk had been reelected by a vote of 4 to 1. The motion to reelect him was made by Ed Byrd, and seconded by Elections Approved Supt. Houk then read to the board the certifications by the three district committees of their elections of principals. Mr. Finley's election was approved on motion of Mr. Sloan, second-ed by Mr. Browning; Mr. Sum-mer's, on motion of Mr. Brown-
