Ellijay

Fred Young is working in Asheville for a few weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ammons and son, of Winston-Salem, recently visited Mrs. Ammons' sister, Mrs. Robert Henry, her mother, Mrs. Jake Williams, and Mr. Ammons' brother, Jim Ammons, at their Ellijay homes.
Mr. and Mrs. Harlie Dills, of Brevard, recently were here for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Tom Henry. Accompanying the Dillses were two sons and a daughter-in-law, of Brevard, and a son and daughter-in-law from Pickens, S. C.
Mr. and Mrs. Adam Moses, of Sylva, was here recently for a visit to Mr. Moses' uncle, Jake Young.
Howard Keener, who has been employed in Utah and in California, is here for a visit with his family at their Ellijay home and his parents at their home on Rabbit Creek. He will leave soon to accept a position in Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Carrie Henry remains on the sick list.
Following a near-epidemic of flu in this community, most persons here are much better, with the warmer weather.
Billy Keener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keener, of Ellijay, has returned home from Angel hospital, where he was under treatment for severe nose bleed.

Historic Fort Macon Now Open To Tourists

MOREHEAD CITY—Most important of the historical attractions on the Carteret coast is ancient Fort Macon situated three miles east of Atlantic Beach on Bogue Island. After playing an important role in coastline defense during World War II, the old fortress, started in 1824, has reverted to state ownership and is today one of North Carolina's public parks.
The old Fort, which has played an important role in all major wars since its construction, (although it was originally built as a protection against the early pirates) is again open to tourists. J. B. Long is superintendent of Fort Macon State park.
Careless handling of insecticide sprays, dusts, and other protective chemicals can cause disability or death of livestock or human beings.

PLAN BOX SUPPER

A box supper for the benefit of the Carson Chapel Youth Fellowship and Boy Scout Troop No. 6 will be held Friday night, May 2, at 8 o'clock, at the Fred S. Moores' home, near Slagle's dairy barn.

Gneiss

MRS. F. E. MASHBURN
Howard Keener, who has been working in California, is visiting his family on Ellijay. Recently he and Mrs. Keener and four children, Harold, Betty, Lewis, and Norman, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Keener on Leadford Branch.
The Rev. Maurice Fletcher, of Bob Jones' college, and Rev. Frank Holland, of Cullasaja, preached at the Walnut Creek school house April 20.
Edward R. Mashburn, a radio operator for Eastern Air Lines, stationed at Nashville, Tenn., visited his mother, Mrs. F. E. Mashburn, on Leadford Branch recently.

At the Home Demonstration club meeting Friday not only the usual program will be carried out, but Mrs. Esther Freas will lead the group in native study. Each person plans to bring lunch.
Bill Tilson has moved the Gneiss post office and store from the small wooden building owned by Fred Henson into a concrete block building he has erected on lots he purchased from Lyman Higdon on the bank of the Cullasaja river and on Highway No. 64.
