MISS DILLARD BECOMES BRIDE OF J. W. COLDERS
The bride of the First Methodist church of Dillard, and the Rev. R. B. Harrison, Baptist pastor, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Miss Mary Sanders, of Commerce, Ga., presented a program of music. Mrs. Louis A. Edwards of Highlands, a cousin of the bride, sang "Because" preceding the ceremony, and after the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Bee Weatherly, of Mountain City, was her cousin's maid of honor. Mrs. Jack Brockway, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Dillard and Mrs. Henry Dillard, sisters-in-law of the bride, Miss Lucille Edwards of Highlands, a cousin, and Miss Josephine Lawrence of Atlanta. Little Linda Vaughan, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was flower girl and carried a miniature basket of rose petals.

Young John Dillard, the bride's nephew, was ringbearer.

William Crosswell, of Columbia, S. C., was best man, and groomsmen included brothers of the bride, Earl, James, and Henry Dillard, a cousin P. A. Crunkleton, and Walter Wilfond, of Athens, Ga.

Ushers were George Weatherly, Robert White, Jack Brockway, Dillard Davis, Charlie Brown, Louis Edwards and Claude Dillard, cousins of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory Duchess satin, featuring a tight bodice trimmed with tiny self-covered buttons, leg-of-mutton sleeves, pointed at the wrist, and a full skirt with bustle back. Her illusion veil, belonging to a life-long friend of the family, Mrs. Sally Fanny Yow, of Athens, Ga., was of silk net attached to a Juliet cap of rose point lace beaded with seed pearls. She carried a white brocade fan used in her mother's wedding and a handmade delft blue linen handkerchief. Her bouquet was of swansonias, carnations and calla lilies, centered with a white orchid and showered with lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's parents entertained at breakfast at their residence, "Oak Lawn", following the ceremony. The bride's table was overlaid with a white imported linen tablecloth. From it Mrs. Lamar Green, aunt of the bride, served from the three-tiered wedding cake. Misses Nell Skelton and Gwen Hines poured coffee. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Sally Fanny Yow, Mrs. P. W. Short, Mrs. Robert Taylor and the Misses Louise Brown and Christine Norton. The bride's book was kept by her cousin, Mrs. Sally Mae Barrow of Rabun Gap, Ga.

Mr. Coldren and his bride left for a wedding trip, the bride traveling in a heavenly blue gabardine suit, with white blouse made from her mother's hand-embroidered linen wedding dress. White accessories and a bouquet of white orchids completed her costume. The bride was graduated from the Dillard High school and the University of Georgia. For the past few years she has been a teacher of home economics in the Rabun County High school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Fayette City high school in Pennsylvania, and is now a student of engineering and hotel management at Georgia Tech. He was with the armed forces preceding his entrance at Tech. After July 1, Mr. and Mrs. Coldren will reside in Atlanta.
