MRS. H. G. STORY

MISS CARTER, KNOWN IN HIGHLANDS, WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Carter, of Leominster, Mass., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Carter, to James S. Ferguson, of New York City, formerly of Statesville. The bride is a niece of the late Miss Bernice Durgin, of Highlands, and has visited here several times.

The ceremony was solemnized June 22 in the Unitarian church parsonage in Leominster. Following a wedding trip to Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will make their home in Leominster.

Mrs. Ferguson at the time of her marriage was a member of the nursing staff of the Women's hospital in New York City.

3 CHILDREN OF DUANES CHRISTENED AT SERVICE

Violet Cheshire Duane, William Ravenel Duane and Marguerite Clare Duane, children of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Duane, of New York City, were christened Sunday morning at the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation by the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, rector, following the 11 o'clock morning service. Godmothers for Violet Cheshire and Marguerite Clare were represented by Miss Clare Ravenel and Miss Mary Lou Phinizy, with Dr. William Duane as godfather. Godfathers for William Ravenel were Dr. William Duane and Dr. Thomas Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane and their children have been spending some time here visiting their aunts, the Misses Marguerite and Clare Ravenel, at "Wolf Ridge", the Ravenel summer home on Sunset Mountain.

Tells How Students Govern Selves In Highlands School

Mrs. Annie W. Pierson teacher in the Highlands school for many years, this week commented on two instances of practical training Highlands students receive.

One is the editing and publication of the school paper, "The Mountain Trail". The other is operation of student government in the school.

"At the beginning of the 1946-47 session", she pointed out, in discussing the matter, "the students organized themselves under a constitution patterned after the Constitution of the United States. Their objective was to practice democracy within the school organization in much the same way that our town practices democratic principles under the laws of the state. Therefore, they conformed in their rules to those that the administration had set up under the rulings of the state and those that were necessary for the best conduct of our particular school."

"Under the constitution of the student government, a president was elected from the senior class, a vice-president from the junior class (who automatically becomes president the following year), the student council, which consists of one representative from each class from the seventh grade up, and a corps of marshals and bus patrols whose duties consist in aiding to keep law and order in the halls, restrooms and during bus transportation.

"To the following students we wish to pay special tribute for their serious and cooperative management and assumption of official duties: Bill Lewis, as president of the student council; Vic Wood, the vice-president; Ed Talley and Mary Phillips, lunchroom and hall patrols. Ed Talley we wish to commend especially for taking the initiative as a safety patrol at the waiting station. For this and other well performed duties he received the student council medal.

"LaVerne Vinson, whose service in patrolling the building after school and making sure that all the children were out and remained out, made it possible for the duty teacher to give his entire attention to the groups who were awaiting the arrival of the busses.

"Paul Price, Charles Wood and L. C. Howard, as playground marshals, prevented damage to the property. The bus patrols who rendered worthy service, Conley Owens, Regina Burnette, Annie Nix, Arnold Keener and Evelyn Phillips, the teachers and bus drivers wish to thank for their service in lining up to enter the bus and keeping order on the bus.

"Student government", Mrs. Pierson said, "has worked not only here but in many schools, and gives splendid opportunity to practice civil government."

Totten, Students Survey Plant Life Of Highlands Area

Dr. H. R. Totten, professor of botany, University of North Carolina, accompanied by Mrs. Totten and a group of his students, were recent visitors here, making a survey of the plants of the area. The group registered at the Highlands Biological Laboratory where they heard a brief address by the resident director, Miss Thelma Howell, later, they visited the Museum and Sunset Rocks. Students in the group included Burtle Carroll, Peggy Cates, Gladys Greenbali, Gene Jones, Robert Jones, Robert McEntyre, Mary Joe Parris and J. D. Shields.

spend some time at the Wardlaw cottage on Bearpen mountain.

PLAY PLANNED BY COMMUNITY THEATRE GROUP

Tryouts For Mid-Summer Performance Set For Friday Night

The Highlands Community Theatre, after discontinuing its productions during the war years and giving only one play last year, has announced that tryouts will be held at the Eoy Scout cabin on Main street at 8 o'clock Friday evening, July 18, for its mid-August play.

The play under consideration is "The Night of January Sixteenth", and will include a cast of characters.

The production will be entirely a Highlands affair, and persons interested in the play or wishing to take part in it are urged to attend Friday night's meeting.

Further information concerning the organization and the Friday night tryouts may be obtained from Kenyon B. Zahner, Community Theatre president, or local board members, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilcox and Miss Winnie Eskrigge.

This summer's production will be under the direction of Mrs. Wilcox.

Holt

Leases, Is Redecorating Business Building

Harry Holt, owner of Holt Furniture company, has leased the West Main street building formerly occupied by the Talley and Burnette grocery company. He is redecorating for a display room, and plans adding plate glass windows on the west side. The new location will provide for a more attractive store room display as well as the special window features, and will be under the management of Harry Holt, Jr.

Mr. Holt will continue his main store in the Holt building, also his display room on Fourth street, and his present warehouse on Main street.

Our time, thoughts and efforts are devoted to Electrical Work, and we endeavor to do that one thing well.
