Broughton

Speaks At Highlands Baptist Service

Former Governor J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, was a visitor at Highlands Baptist church Sunday morning. At the request of the pastor, Dr. Thom N. Carter, who recognized the distinguished guest in the congregation, Mr. Broughton spoke briefly on the progress being made in connection with the proposed moving of Wake Forest college to Winston-Salem.

Mr. Broughton remarked that attending Baptist church services had been a habit with him since childhood—then sometimes at the insistence of his parents and against his own inclination, but a habit more fully appreciated with the passing of the years.

Florida Sports Writer Has Story On Highlands

Returning home from a two weeks' stay at Pierson inn, Charlie Baker, sports editor of The Jacksonville (Fla.) Journal, writes his impression of Highlands and Western North Carolina in the following article, condensed from his "Baker's Dozen".

"In Highlands, N. C., a little town almost atop the Blue Ridge, at least forty-odd Jaxons have spent the past two weeks and many, many more have reservations."

"Highlands boasts it has the highest elevation (4,118 feet) of any incorporated town in Eastern America. . . . We don't know about that, but it is higher than any other town we visited and is a paradise by day and night for persons anxious to escape the summer's heat. You sleep under blankets not once in a while, but every night—and what an appetite!

"Highlands has one of the most beautiful country clubs and golf courses we have ever seen. . . . Mankind has produced some beautiful landscapes, but it doesn't have to do anything in that country for the simple reason man can't improve on Mother Nature, who has been generous indeed to Western North Carolina. There is natural beauty everywhere and, best of all, it is free. All you need is a good pair of eyes. . . . try North Carolina. There are places all, rich or poor."

ADVERTISING OF HIGHLANDS SEEN AS NEEDED

Legion Post Is Host To Prominent Visitors

Highlands' possibilities are unlimited, but if the community is to develop, it must advertise, Hoyt Wimpy, of Thomasville, Ga., told the Highlands Memorial post of the American Legion at the post's meeting July 17.

Mr. Wimpy, who is a past commander of the American Legion, department of Georgia, and a member of the National Aeronautical commission, was one of a group of prominent visiting Legionnaires present for the meeting. Among them was DeLacy Allen, also of Thomasville, who is past national vice-commander, who also addressed the meeting.

Mr. Wimpy, suggesting the advertising of Highlands as a project of paramount importance that the Highlands post might sponsor, said that the community, generally speaking, is unknown throughout the United States. He added that he learned of Highlands through J. Harvey Trice, of Highlands and Thomasville.

Both speakers emphasized the work of the Legion. Mr. Allen traced the organization's history and purposes, and emphasized that, while the use of force sometimes is necessary, the Legion is not a militaristic pressure group. On the other hand, he added, its scope is so broad that today it stands as one of the foremost guardians of democracy and the American way of life.

Democracy, he said, cannot and should not be forced upon people, but must be "sold" to them, and if it is to be "sold" to other peoples of the world, it must be done by the example set by the American people.

While the Legion is a large national organization, Mr. Allen stressed the importance of the community service of individual posts, and praised the Highlands post's project on raising

Mr. Wimpy, in his discussion of the Legion, declared that World War 2 might have been averted, had congress adopted the Legion's program for universal military training, and added that if the peace is to be kept in the future, universal training is a must.

Other out-of-town guests present at the meeting were: Dr. Richard E. Halton, member of the board of directors, Sarasota Bay Post No. 30, Sarasota, Fla.; Dr. F. William Schultz, past commander, Sarasota Bay Post No. 30; W. T. Roberts, past commander, Sarasota Bay Post No. 30, and commander of Legion District 3, department of Florida; and J. A. "Be prepared" is a good motto for the good old summer-time, when guests are apt to drop in unexpectedly. So here are some delicious dishes you can fix at your leisure and keep in your refrigerator for such emergencies.

ICE CREAM

This chocolate ice cream made with rich WHITE HOUSE EVAPORATED MILK from the A&P is grand to have on hand. Shave 2 squares unsweetened chocolate into top of double boiler. Add 1 cup WHITE HOUSE MILK and 16 whole marshmallows. Cook over boiling water till well blended; cool and add 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Whip 1 cup chilled WHITE HOUSE MILK till stiff; fold into mixture. Pour into cold freezing tray and freeze at coldest setting. When partially frozen, stir well and continue freezing. Serves 5.

SALAD STANDBY

6 for lunch? Cook an 8-oz. package of A&P's ANN PAGE ELBOW MACARONI (see package directions); drain; chill; add 1 tsp. salt, 2 quartered tomatoes, 1 medium onion (chopped), 1/2 green pepper (chopped), 1 hard-cooked egg, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 head Boston lettuce, pepper and paprika. Toss lightly.

SIMPLE SANDWICHERY

Sandwiches make perfect spur-of-the-moment snacks . . . and MARVEL SANDWICH BREAD makes perfect sandwiches. Guaranteed fresh daily, every loaf gives you plenty of thin, smooth-spreading slices. You'll find this thrifty bread only at A&P. And what a find it is!

FROSTY FAVORITE

I don't think there's a more refreshing warm weather drink than rich, tangy A&P GRAPE JUICE mixed with an equal quantity of ginger-ale. And this heat beater looks as if it came straight from the North Pole when it's served, well iced, in glasses with frosted rims. To frost, I let the rims stand 1 minute in a saucer containing 1/4" strained lemon juice, then 1 minute in a plate containing 1/4" sifted powdered sugar . . . and, being careful not to jar the sugared rims, store the glasses in my refrigerator till the sugar sets. Inviting as an igloo!
