MRS. H. G. STORY

MISS HALL BECOMES BRIDE OF R. L. ORR

The marriage of Miss Margaret Sarah Hall, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tudor N. Hall, to Richard LeRoy Orr, son of Mrs. Helen G. Orr, of South Bend, Ind., and of Wilford Orr, of Lansing, Mich., was solemnized last Saturday in the Church of the Incarnation, with the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

For the impressive late afternoon ceremony the church was decorated with hemlock boughs and white dahlias. Rosettes of the same flowers marked the family pews, from which white satin streamers were stretched. Back of the altar were four seven-branched candelabra flanking tall brass vases that held white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. A. C. Holt gave a program of organ music preceding the ceremony. The Wedding March from Lohengrin was played during the processional. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper-satin. The long bodice of the gown was trimmed with self-covered buttons down the back, with rose-point lace forming the small round collar and the cuffs on the long sleeves. The same lace faced the seed-pearl tiara that was worn with an illusion veil. She carried a shower corsage of gardenias and carnation petals over a white prayer book. For "something old," the bride carried her mother's wedding handkerchief.

Miss Isabel Hall, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore a blue moire gown featuring full side peplums of self material. The bridesmaids were Miss Janet Orr, sister of the groom, and Miss Ann Anderson, cousin of the bride. They wore old rose moire gowns fashioned with pointed side panels. All wore halo hats to match their dresses, with contrasting ribbon streamers and carried sprays of American Beauty roses.

William Farr of Lansing, Mich., served as best man. The usher-groomsman were Tudor Gilbert Hall, brother of the bride, and Harry Holt, Jr. Little Joanna Hall, cousin of the bride, was flower girl; she wore pale blue taffeta trimmed with pink ribbons and carried an old-fashioned nose-gay. John Tucker Hall, young brother of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Hall chose for her daughter's wedding a gray gown trimmed with black and silver lace. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. Orr, wore a black sequin-trimmed gown, with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Elbert R. Gilbert, maternal grandmother of the bride, was gowned in blue crepe with a matching lace coil and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Elliot Caziare, who wore a gown of beige crepe decorated with black sequins, greeted the guests and presented them to the bridal party receiving line that formed before the fireplace in the living room. Miss Marna Cobb kept the bride's book. Mrs. Thomas Harbison presided at the punch table. The bride's table, at which Mrs. Jack Brockway and Mrs. Jack Wilcox presided, was covered with a cloth of Italian cut-work, centered by the four-tiered all-white wedding cake decorated at the base with white carnations and forget-me-nots and topped with a miniature urn that held the same flowers. Three-branched candelabra flanked the cake, with the silver coffee urn at one end.

For her going-away costume, the bride chose a grey garbading suit with which she wore a feather-trimmed grey hat and grey reptile shoes, and carried a matching reptile bag. After a wedding trip to Michigan that will include a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Orr and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffus, grandparents of the groom, the couple will be at home in the cottage they have taken on Fifth street.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Hall, Mrs. Nash Broyles, Mrs. Helen Hill Norris, Mrs. Hazel Sloan, relatives of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Jr., and Mrs. Asa J. Patterson, all of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGee, cousins of the bride from Rock Hill, S. C.; Mrs. Yoma Gray, of South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. W. W. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Major and Charles and Joe Major, of Anderson, S. C.; Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Angel and Mrs. Esther Freas, of Franklin; Mrs. J. M. Bruner and Miss Rachel Bruner, of Westminster, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Willis, of Clemson, S. C.; and Miss Margaret Yarbrough and Miss Betty Arnold, of Fassifern school, Hendersonville.

Mrs. Jack Brockway, assisted by Mrs. William A. Matthews, entertained with a rehearsal supper honoring the wedding party Friday evening, at her home on the Country club road, and Mrs. Martha Brown Edmondson entertained for the wedding party and out-of-town guests Saturday morning at "Vz-top".
