Personal Mention

Dan Bryson, who was taken to Angel hospital Sunday critically ill, is reported to be improving.

Harold Enloe made a business trip to Raleigh last Thursday and Friday.

Charley Potts, of Highlands, H. H. Plemons, G. B. Woodard, and others, attended the State Baptist convention in Winston-Salem last week.

Mrs. Donald C. Carr and young son, Richard, came to Franklin Monday from their home in Adairsville, Ga., to join Mr. Carr, who recently became a member of the staff of The Press. The Carrs have taken an apartment in the home of Mrs. L. P. Compton, on the Georgia road.

Attends Meet Of Stat. Education Group

Weimar Jones attended the conferences in Raleigh Monday called by the State Education commission. Mr. Jones recently was appointed as a member of one of the commission's sub-committees.

The commission, appointed by Governor R. Gregg Cherry, was authorized by the 1947 general assembly, and is instructed to make a comprehensive study of education in North Carolina, and present recommendations to the next general assembly.

Mr. Jones is a member of the sub-committee named to study the problems of the education of exceptional children.

ter were outstanding on offense. The Panther backfield, as a unit, exhibited some excellent ball handling under extremely difficult conditions. Gregory's long run and Flanagan's completion of three out of five pass attempts in a downpour of rain were the highlights of the game. Outstanding for Andrews were Bradley and E. Parker in the backfield and Gregory and Hawk in the line. Both teams deserve a great deal of credit for giving the spectators a well-played, hard-fought game under highly disagreeable conditions and the clean sportsmanship shown by the players.
