

SCHOOL VISITS URGED BY PTA

Program Chairman Points Out Need Of Cooperation With Teacher

Following the last regular meeting of the Highlands Parent Teacher Association, the organization has issued an invitation to all patrons of the Highlands school to make November and December "Do Something Special for your School and Teacher" months.

Mrs. Manson Valentine, program committee chairman for the PTA, pointed that the theme was very timely as it followed on the heels of American Education Week. In a message to the organization members Mrs. Valentine quoted excerpts from a recent speech of President Truman in which he said, "I would point out that the creative ideals of our democracy must be taught in order to be learned. . . . We must prepare our young people to understand and preserve their priceless heritage of freedom. . . . I therefore urge all Americans to rededicate themselves to the program of providing their children with a sound education."

Mrs. Valentine advised that the Parent Teacher Association carry on the standard and goals set by Education Week through the whole year and especially during November and December, the months of good will and hospitality.

She urged the members to make a visit to the school room and make friends with your teacher. As other suggestions she recommended that individuals make a gift to the home room in which their child was a student, and that parents give their sympathetic interest to the teacher and the school.

Entered Last Week By Thieves

The summer home and guest house of Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. Gante at Gneiss were burglarized last week and among other things stolen were two electric refrigerators. The Gante's, who returned to their winter home in Anderson, Ind., about a month ago, used more than the average care in closing their home for the winter.

Entrance to the main house was gained by breaking locks, and the guest house was entered by prying off the wooden shutter and breaking a window.

Dr. and Mrs. Gante arrived Saturday to investigate the loss.
