Issues Warning

Of Danger in Using Motor Oils For Heating

Mayor T. W. Angel, Jr., has received a letter from the Standard Oil Company warning the public against the danger of using motor oils, in any form, for heat. Because of the shortage of fuel oil and kerosene, the company pointed out, it is feared that some persons might endanger the lives of themselves and others by attempting to substitute motor oils for fuel oil or kerosene.

The company warns that it is dangerous to use motor fuels or other inflammable products in space heaters, floor burners, or other types of oil heaters; to mix motor oils with fuel oil or kerosene; to use motor oils to start fires; to use crankcase drainings or used engine oils as fuel, since these are almost always contaminated with gasoline; to store containers of inflammable products inside the house, and especially to store it near an open fire; and to use motor fuels for any cleaning purposes, such as floors, clothing, etc.

Two More Freaks

Placed In Window.

At Press Office

Another monster egg and an unusual ear of corn have joined the animal and vegetable freaks brought to The Press office for display in its window.

The corn, grown by Charles J. Ferguson, is an ordinary ear in every respect but one. It has 26 closely packed rows of grains. The usual number of rows, Mr. Ferguson said, is 14 to 16.

The egg, laid by one of the Barred Rocks in the flock of Mr. and Mrs. Graham W. Grindstaff, measures eight and a half inches in circumference the long way, and is 6 1/4 inches in girth. It weighs a quarter of a pound.

In a number of Southern states, the lumber industry stands at the top in the number of establishments, in the number of wage earners, in wages paid, and in value of the product.

man; cradle roll and nursery, Mrs. F. I. Murray.

Mr. Smith urged all Baptist Sunday school workers throughout the county to attend.

Roy Cunningham, who is connected with the Western Auto Associate store here, is attending the merchandising show being held in Atlanta by the Western Auto Supply company.

A feature of this show will be the Davis safety curve tire which has been developed as a result of surveys conducted by the National Safety council.

From this research and development emerged a system of "curve gripper". These patented curve grippers are nearly invisible perforations in a chevron arrangement on the outside rib which spread out and greatly increase the tire traction when pressure is applied. Each tire contains 1,036 of these perforations. Mr. Cunningham will return latest state to appropriate money for advertising in Idaho, with a $100,000 appropriation.
