They Grow Corn Close Together In Otto Section

In the Otto section they grow their corn close together. Not that they plant the stalks close together, but they grow it close together on the stalk.

At least some corn, grown by Fred Shope and now on display in the Press office window, indicates that that is the case.

Seven ears grow where only one ordinarily would. In the seven-ear freak, a center ear is of normal size and development. Clustered round it, and grown to it, are six others, about half the ordinary length, and with the grains only on the outer sides.

the male members of the senior class of the Franklin High school Friday. The theme of the talk was "Stay in School". He pointed out that the navy needs approximately 200,000 men this year, and cited the definite advantages that a high school graduate has over the non-graduate in the service.

R. L. Williams, 20, of Jackson county, appeared before Magistrate John Moore Monday, after being charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and was bound over to the next term of the superior court, after making bond for $300.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning Goldsmith, of Pelzer, S. C., have announced the birth of a son, Joseph McCall Goldsmith, in a Greenville, S. C., hospital, January 27. Mrs. Goldsmith is the former Miss Lane Porter, of Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Brown, of Franklin, have announced the birth of a son, January 27 at Angel hospital. Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Mildred Cozad, of Franklin.

Cabe to bring him to Franklin from Sylva and just as they were ready to return, he threatened the driver with a .22 calibre rifle which was in the car.

After some discussion, during which Cabe agreed to carry out Williams' wishes but told him he must first get some gas, the taxi pulled into the filling station in East Franklin operated by H. H. Mashburn. Here the two engaged in a struggle for possession of the gun. Mr. Mashburn, who was on duty at the time, finally seized the gun and ordered both the men to leave his place of business. The filling station operator said that Cabe turned and went toward town in his auto, with Williams going in the same direction on foot.

A few minutes later Sheriff J. P. Bradley arrested Williams near the Indian mound and brought him to jail. Shortly afterwards the hearing was held before Magistrate Moore and Williams was released under bond.
