NORTON OUTFOR SURVEYOR: ONLY FILING OF WEEK

Redden Re-Named; Moore And Bryson Unopposed; G. O. P. To Meet

The only ripples to be seen on the surface of the local po-litical pool during the past week were caused by the filing of one Democrat, and the pre-cinct meetings of the Repub-

Meanwhile, the passing of the deadline for filing for state offices cleared up the situation as to who will be the candidates to be voted upon in the May 29 primary.

The lone name filed this week for county office is that of Ray Norton, as candidate for the nomination county surveyor. The only man previously entered in the county races is Democrat Carl S. Slagle, who filed 10 days ago for representative.

The offices of representative and surveyor are the only strictly county offices to be filled at the November general election. Five members of the county board of education are to be nominated in the primary, however-for appointment by the general assembly.

The state senator from the thirty-third district, made up of Macon, Clay, Cherokee, Graham, and Swain counties, also is to be nominated and elected, and it is generally considered that this year it is Macon's turn to name the senator. No candidate for that office has announced to date:

Candidates for all county of-fices, including state senator, have until April 17 to file noof their candidacies and pay the filing fees.

With the primary chips all down, it became evident that the Democratic incumbents in three districts in which Macon County lies are unopposed in the primary, while two have no Republican opposition. They are twelfth district Congressman Monroe M. Redden, of Hendersonville, twentieth judicial district superior court Judge Dan K. Moore, of Sylva twentieth district Solicitor Thad D. Bryson, Jr., of Franklin and Bryson City.

Mr. Redden will be opposed for congress by Col, John A. Wagner, of Asheville, nominated Wagner, of Asheville, nominated by the Republicans at their district convention in Sylva March county offices. (State senate, 12. No Republican candidates filed for judge or solicitor in this district.

GIVES SOUND PROJECTOR TO

The Highlands Presbyterian church has just received a new Ampro-Premier 16-millimeter sound projector, the gift of E. C. Schwimmer, of Detroit, Mich., owner of the Acme Photographers Supply company, and whole-saler and retailer of sports equipment. This projector is said to retail for approximately $500. Included with the projector were several rolls of religious and educational films.

A world traveler, Mr. Schwimmer was a guest at Hotel Edwards the latter part of January on his way north from six weeks of picture-making in the jungles of Florida. In conservation with Mrs. Louis Edwards, who operated the hotel during the absence of the owners, Mr. Schwimmer became interested in the Presbyterian church and what it and the Rev. Jack B. Davidson, pastor, are doing in the church's program for the young people, and the gift is the result of that interest.

No Verdict Required Of Macon Jury

The Macon County jurors se-lected to try Boone Carver on charge of first degree murder in Graham superior court did not have to pass on the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

A plea of second degree murder, offered by Carver's counsel was accepted by the state, and Judge Donald Phillips, presiding, sentenced the defendant to 28 to 30 years. He was on trial for the slaying of Thomas B. Whatley, member of the State Highway Patrol, last December

After the Macon jurors had heard the state's evidence, the defense rested without offering evidence, and the argument began. Shortly thereafter, however, the second degree murder plea was accepted, and the trial was over.

The jurors-drawn from a venire of 78 that left here in two chartered buses early Thursday morning—were Harley B. Mason, C. A. Williams, Bready Sweat-man, Garland Davis, W. C. neer and real estate man. He is not expected to have opposition in the primary.

Republicans in Macon County were scheduled to meet on their were scheduled to meet on their last. Saturday, and solve the scheduled to meet on their last. Saturday, and solve the scheduled to meet on their last.

Macon officers were instructed to summon a venire of 100 drawn from this county's jury box, but they said some of the 100 were ill, some were away, some could not be found, and two were dead, so that only 78 were ordered to report for pos-sible jury service at Robbins-

The unused veniremen were returned to Franklin by bus Thursday afternoon, and the jurors were sent back by taxi Friday afternoon, at the con-clusion of the trial.
