CHARLES M. JOHNSON FOR GOVERNOR

HERE'S HIS PLATFORM

Straight Forward — Simple — Constructive

1. A substantial increase in teachers' salaries to "attract and hold in the state's services the most competent and consecrated teachers."
2. A reduction in the pupil load through the employment of more teachers. He added: "We can find no satisfaction in the fact that in the number of children per teacher North Carolina ranks at the absolute bottom of the states of the union."
3. Use of some of the state's general fund surplus to help less fortunate areas to erect school buildings. But, he said, "I am not advocating or suggesting that the state assume all of the costs of school construction."
4. A school health program that will insure to every child a fair chance at a healthy start in life. He said: "Health should be taught in the schools. Every child should have a thorough physical examination every year. Where parents are financially unable to have physical defects corrected, the state should provide the necessary professional services."
5. A state referendum on a bond issue for improvement of secondary roads. He added that if the state continues to follow a pay-as-you-go policy on improving secondary roads, "many years will elapse before thousands of farmers will be served by all-weather roads."
6. Development of "an adequate marketing system" for agricultural products. He added: "The problem of surpluses, with their price-depressing effects, stands today as the greatest threat to the posterity and welfare of the North Carolina farmers."
7. Increases in appropriations for needy old people and dependent children to bring them "into line with the high living costs of the day."
8. "A reasonable expansion in the state's services, with such tax relief as necessary to correct injustices." He expressed the belief that the state should not continue to collect money which it does not need.
9. Increased emphasis upon establishing industries in rural communities.
10. A constitutional amendment providing for concentrating in Raleigh "only those governmental functions which are state-wide in their application and which the state can perform more efficiently."
