5 reasons why...

It Will Pay YOU To Advertise in THE FRANKLIN PRESS

1. BECAUSE honest, intelligent advertising always pays.
2. BECAUSE the weekly newspaper, unlike the daily, stays on the library table not just for a day, but for a week or longer.
3. BECAUSE any home newspaper, since its news is about home people and most of its advertising is about home business, is more carefully read than the big paper.
4. BECAUSE The Franklin Press today stresses Macon County problems as never before, and therefore is read more thoroughly than ever before. Folks read it literally from "kiver to kiver".
5. BECAUSE The Press is read by an ever-increasing number. Last week's paid circulation was 2,312. That is a record, under the present management; it is an all-time record, so far as is known.

Consider That Figure

2,312 folks wanted to read The Press badly enough to pay out good cash in advance for it.

And that doesn't mean that only 2,312 people read last week's issue—by no means. Actually, an average of three persons in each family usually read a community newspaper. And when you add that to the number of neighbors who borrow, the total number of readers probably is well in excess of . . .

Well, figure it for yourself!
