regulation permits use of school buses to bring children to concerts of the N. C. orchestra, and that this will make it possible for a larger number of children from outlying communities to hear the orchestra.

Since Friendship Tabernacle has the largest auditorium in Franklin, it was decided to request permission to use it for the children's concert, but to ask the Macon Theatre, which has donated use of its auditorium previous seasons, to permit use of the theatre in the event of the weather is severe.

The group voted to ask the use of the Franklin Methodist church for the evening concert.

It was suggested that, since the children are to have a free concert, that each school be requested to raise funds for the project. The committee members also voted to ask the members of the Franklin Junior Music club and the Girl Scouts to sell memberships.

A chairman was named for each rural community, and Franklin was broken up into zones and workers suggested for each zone.

Mrs. Manson Valentine, Highlands chairman, telephoned that her committee of eight at the last minute found it impossible to come to the meeting, but that it was ready to start work.

Attending the meeting were Miss L. M. Jones, executive committee chairman, Mrs. Fred Slagle, Mrs. F. E. Mashburn, W. W. Sloan, E. J. Carpenter, Carl Moses, Mrs. Allen Siler, George B. Perkins, the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, Mrs. Harry Hig-
