June Apple Tree Here Comes Through With November Crop

It was almost a case of June and December with a June apple tree in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper, of West Main street. Mr. Cooper Monday brought to The Press office a limb from one of his trees bearing a number of green leaves and three apples, all about one-third the normal size. The tree, which bore heavily at the normal time, came through with a second crop of 18 or 20, Mr. Cooper said, adding that he discovered the November crop only after some of the leaves had fallen, revealing the small but excellently flavored fruit.

A second June apple tree nearby is bare of apples.

The 50 tribes of Indians in Oklahoma comprise almost one-fifth of the Indian population of the United States.

5 Macon Youths Enlist In Army Through Station Here

Five Macon County young men enlisted in the army during October, according to an announcement of M. Sgt. C. M. Faircloth, head of the local recruiting station.

While this represents a drop from the 10 enlisted in September, the Franklin station still is leading the entire Greenville (S. C.) army area, Sgt. Faircloth said. Enlistments from other counties served by the local station during October were: Jackson, 5; Cherokee, 4; Clay, 3; and Swain, 3.

The Macon men who enlisted are George A. Ledford, of Otto, Edwin S. Norton, of Highlands, Charlie K. C. Stanfield, of Highlands, Marshall Sorrells, of Franklin, and John E. McClure, of Franklin.

McClure enlisted for three years, the other four for two years.

Sgt. Faircloth this week also announced that the army has issued instructions for all army units to make every possible effort to keep together any two young men entering the service from the same community, and who wish to remain together, during their training and first assignments.

Rhodes, In Europe, Gets Certificate For Course

six-week course as a bulldozer operator. Mr. Rhodes is the son-in-law of Mrs. Mary Morgan, of the Cartoogechaye community, and Mrs. Rhodes last week received the certificate awarded the young man by the army for his work.
