Sheep Pay When Given Right Care

Growers who follow good management practices report that sheep are a profitable enterprise for North Carolina farms, according to L. I. Case, in charge of animal husbandry extension at State college.

As an example, he says, farm flock records of six Person county farmers show that they averaged a gross income of $33.33 per ewe this year. Some of them made as high as $48 per ewe.

However, says Mr. Case, sheep must be properly bred, properly fed, and properly managed the year round if they are to make money for their owners.

Right now, he points out, ewes should be gaining in condition so they will be in good, strong shape at lambing time, which is not far off.

Another thing that's important at this season—and throughout the year—is keeping sheep free from internal parasites, Mr. Case says. If the flock had access to phenothiazine and salt during the grazing season the mature sheep will be pretty well taken care of.

About December 1, however, the entire flock should be given individual treatment of some kind. The treatment may be with either phenothiazine or copper sulphate and Black Leaf 40 combined.

Full directions for application are given in Extension Folder No. 61, "The Control of Internal Parasites of Sheep," copies of which are available free from the county agent or from Agricultural Editor, State College Station, Raleigh.

If you want to stretch that food dollar, plan carefully the three meals a day. Plan at least three meals at a time and be sure to include all of the things you need for good nutrition.

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

By RUTH CURRENT
State Home Demonstration
Agent

Many homemakers like the idea of keeping a bottle of vinegar on hand with several cloves of garlic and a few pods of red peppers in it. Such vinegar is particularly pleasing in flavor when used in making mayonnaise or French dressing for vegetable salads, and is delicious, too, when poured over a roast of lamb or beef.

Sandpapering the soles of a baby's new shoes before they are worn may keep him from slipping and so prevent many falls.

When purchasing a winter coat it is wise to remember the fact that the best linings are usually slippery so that the coat will go on and off easily; firm so the lining won't pull at the seams; color-fast; pre-shrunk; and of a material that won't wrinkle or stain.

The number of outfits a girl owns has little to do with the usefulness of her wardrobe. The suitability of her clothes is more important than the number.

And the clothes which cost the most are not the clothes made of the finest materials. They are the clothes which hang in the closet, unworn. The actual cost of any outfit is the cost in dollars and cents divided by the number of times you wear the outfit.

Your hemline is perfect when it's barely noticeable. A finished hem can give your outfit either a custom-tailored look or a "homemade" effect.

Fortunately most inks are washable. A good sudsing in warm water and soap is all that's necessary to remove ink stains from clothing.

Occasionally, however, you may have to apply vinegar or lemon juice. If clothes are white, bleach remaining stains with hydrogen peroxide. With colored clothes sponge clothes with warm glycerin and let stand for 30 minutes. Rinse well.

Most candy stains will wash right out. Chocolate is the only one that is a little difficult to remove. After washing the garment in lukewarm water, use hydrogen peroxide to remove the balance of the stain. Rinse well. If the stain is on a coat or jacket that can't be washed, sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

When REA was established 12 years ago, 10 per cent of the farms had electricity, as compared to 61 per cent receiving electric service today. For beekeepers who plan to have not more than a half dozen colonies, production of chunk corn honey probably is most satisfactory.
