3 From Here Attend Meeting Of WNCAC

President B. W. McGlammy and Director Frank B. Duncan, of the Franklin Chamber of Commerce, and E. W. Renshaw, supervisor of the Nantahala National Forest, representing the Forest Service, attended last week's meeting of Western North Carolina Associated Communities, held at Cherokee Tuesday.

Of interest to old timers is the fact that Emory McCall, of Oregon, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Rufus McCall. He expects to be here several weeks. Mrs. Preston Neely, who has been suffering with a fractured arm, is much improved.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Should housewives continue their fat salvage campaign?
A. The answer is yes. The fat salvage program, in effect since 1944, has been remarkably successful and has resulted in the saving of millions of pounds of critically short fats, and oils.

The general supply situation has improved in recent months. However, it is expected that millions of housewives, who have found the salvage program a convenient and profitable way to dispose of waste fats, will continue to save this material. The program is basically one of conservation. The fat salvage habit is a thrift habit which brings financial return.
