Driving a produce truck for J. E. Bradley, of this county, who accompanied him, Mr. Reece was heading north at the time, according to the testimony at the inquest. A tractor pulled into the highway from a side road at the right, and an automobile directly in front the Reece truck slowed down and swerved to the left. Mr. Reece, in an effort to avoid colliding with either the tractor or the car in front of him pulled sharp ly to the left. In so doing, his truck struck Mr. Brand, who was walking on the left side of the highway, off the pavement. The truck overturned.

Neither Mr. Reece nor Mr. Bradley was injured, but the truck was badly damaged.

Mr. Reece was represented at the inquest by his attorney, R. S. Jones.

LANDMARK PASSES - Work men this week began to demolish th old Johnston home on West Main street, for many years the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jackson (Uncle Jack and Aunt 'Gene) Johnston, and later of their son, the late T. J. Johnston and family. The house was built in 1860, according to a date on the old guttering. Frank B. Duncan, owner of the property, sold the building to Jim S. Gray and Vernon Cumningham, with the understanding it would be torn down and removed. Mr. Duncan said the house had go deteriorated that it did not warrant.repairs. The building was believed to be one of the oldest in Franklin.

Macon's Teachers Getting $17,000 Extra This Month

Teachers and other public school employes in Macon County this week are receiving monthly pay checks totaling approximately $17,-000 more than usual, figures compiled in the county superintendent's office show.

The reason is the 20 per cent salary increase voted by the current legislature, to be retroactive for about three and a half months.

The monthly payroll for the 110 teachers, 25 bus drivers, five janitors, and pleyes in this county has been about $25,000. The 20 per cent increase will boost is to approximately $30,000 monthly. But this month's checks, covering one month's salary, plus about three and a half month's increase, total in the neighborhood of $42,000.

Firm Officials Stress Quality In Talks At Dinner

Approximately 275 Van Raalte workers, officials, and guests attended the "house warming" held at the Franklin Van Raalte Saturday night.

The event, besides providing an opportunity for inspection of the plant and its facilities. offered officials of the company a chance to become acquainted with a large number of townspeople.

Frank Risenberger, president of Van Raalte, was here for his first visit since the completion of the plant.

In a short after-dinner talk Mr. Risenberger gave a brief sketch of the size of the organization, which now operates 15 plants in six states with a total personel of 4,100.

SCHOOL BOARD

New Macon Education Body Due To Meet April 11

The five persons who were nominated for the posts, in last spring's Democratic primary, are named as members of the Macon County board of education in the omnibus school board bill introduced in the lower house of the general assembly Tuesday.

The five are the three present members who were renominated-C. Gordon Moore, the pres ent chairman, Bob S. Sloan, and Walter Gibson — and two new members, Mrs. Florence S. Sherrill and Fred Edwards.

The new board which will hold office for two years, normally would meet, organize, and elect a county superintendent at a meeting on the first Monday in April. It probably will not he called into session, however, until the second Monday-Anril 11-County Supt. Guv L. Houk the board. Mr. Houk has the responsibility for calling a new hard to its first session.

Since the bill appointing the boards throughout the state was not introduced until Tuesday Mr. Houk explained, it is imnrobable that it can be retified in time for the board members to receve formal notice of their appointments prior to the first Monday in April.

Meanwhile, the present board nresumably will meet next Monday for its final session.

When the new board meets, its first action is expected to be the election of a chairman, and ts second, the election of a county superintendent for a two takes office. Weaver Shope Chosen Head Of V.F.W.

Z. Weaver Shope is the new commander of Macon County ans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Shope, who is principal of Higdonville school, was elected at a dinner meeting of the post, held at Norton's cafe Wednesday evening of last week. Other officers chosen are:

Carl M. Faircloth, senior vicecommander; Norton Holbrooks, junior vice-commander; Robert R. Gaines, quaartermaster: and Edwin W. Shope, adjutant. Named as trustees are George Byrd, for a three-year term; Paschal Norton, two years; and Woodrow Reeves, one year.

Appointive officials will be named by the new commander at the next meeting, which is set for April 13.

In discussion of plans for increasing the membership during the coming year, it was pointed out that the local post's enrollment is the largest west of Haywood county.

R. R. Gaines, recalling that it was the V. F. W. which started the movement to build a stadium at the school athletic field, and that the post made an unsecured loan to get the work started, suggested that organization select a civic project to sponsor during the coming year.
