"THE LOST COLONY" PLAYING NINTH SEASON—These are scenes from "The Lost Colony," Paul Green's internationally famous symphonic drama built up around one of the greatest mysteries of history. The ninth season of the show, which had its premiere in 1937, opened July 2 in the Waterside Theatre, near Manteo, on Roanoke Island. A dramatic innovation this year will be the Lost Colony chorus, under direction of Theos Cronk, leaving the choir stall to become singing actors on the stage in certain scenes. Some of the familiar scenes of the famous production are shown here. At top the picture shows the gala and colorful English court scene where Queen Elizabeth is hostess to her subjects, some of whom are bringing news of Roanoke Island, in a land which she names Virginia, in honor of herself, the virgin queen. At right is beautiful Barbara Edwards, first North Carolina native to play the female lead of Eleanor Dare. Uppowoc, the Indian medicine man, is shown in one of his sensational dances at left. 1,500 ATTEND ANNUAL PICNIC OF FEDERATION

Bumgarner, of Sylva, Herman and A. D. Jones, of Sylva, and Ed Bowers, Andrews cowboy. A man-sized hen and rooster appeared on the stage, and a large cow was introduced to illustrate the effects of the Southeastern Artificial Breeding association's program.

Many Macon County musicians and singers played at the picnic. Among them were Howard Cabe, Theodore Tallent and George Crawford; B. B. Haire and his son, Eugene; Leo and David Sanders; Carl Phillips; Catherine Waldrop; and the "Blue Ridge Partners," Lester Waldrop, Boyd Holland, and Bryan Hurst.

The Rev. L. C. Stevens, pastor of the Macon Methodist Circuit, offered the invocation. Burningtown choir, led by Harley Mason, won first prize in the class singing in the afternoon, and the L. H. Leadbetter family choir was given second position by the judges. In the quartet singing, the Mosteller brothers won, followed by the Black Mountain quartet from Highlands.

Contests at the end of the day were decided as follows:
Oldest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barnes, 49 years; newest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ledford; largest family, Mrs. Mabel Cowart and seven children; largest truckload, M. L. Justice, with 50 persons; and baldest head, Ed Higdon.

Tompkins Is Speaker At Legion Post Picnic

The second annual picnic of the local American Legion and Legion Auxillary was held Sunday at "High Haven", Wayah Bald camp of the Gilmer A. Joneses, with Legionnaires, members of the Auxillary, and their families and friends present for the occasion.

Following a picnic dinner, which was served inside the cabin due to the rainy weather, the group heard Dan Tompkins, of Sylva, district commander and former state representative from Jackson county, make a short address on the work of the Legion. He pointed out that the legion is the largest service organization in the world. Among its accomplishments he listed the passage of the G. I. Bill of Rights for veterans of World War II.

Following the address by Mr. Tompkins, the group responded enthusiastically to a proposal by Harold Enloe that another such gathering be held later this year. The meeting was adjourned by Post Commander Gilmer A. Jones.

HE KNEW HER

Diminutive Mr. Henpeck had accompanied his wife to the zoo, and had somehow contrived to lose that large, pugnacious woman. Suddenly the keeper of the zoo dashed up to him excited:

Keeper: (panting for breath) —"Your wife—she is in the cage with a lion."

Henpecked Husband: "I cannot help your troubles, my man. The loss of a lion or so in the world means nothing to me."
