WILL PRESENT
BARRIE PLAY
NEXT MONDAY

Community Theatre To Give Second Drama
Of Season

The finishing touches are being put on the production of "What Every Woman Knows" to be presented by the Highlands Community Theatre next Monday in matinee and night performances in the school theatre.

Director Arthur Litt'e reports satisfactory progress in rehearsals, and details of staging are being taken care of by Fred Allen and Jonathan Williams.

This Barrie comedy is said to promise an evening of laughs, with clever lines, amusing situations, and an unusually competent cast.

The woman who "knows" will be played by Sarah Little, who portrays Maggie Wylie as the very understandable wife of the able but egotistical John Shand, to be played by Fred Allen. The Scotch father and brothers of Maggie will be played by Charles Wick, John Beakley and O. C. Edwards.

The "other woman", Lady Sybil, will be played by Anne Major.

Other roles will be entrusted to Ralph Mowbray, as the elderly statesman, patron of John Shand, and to Virginia Wilcox as the comtesse, aunt of Sybil and good friend to Maggie.

The choice of this popular play, presented by such a cast, is expected to bring a full house for both the afternoon and evening performances.

"Nothing" came the despairing reply.

A thoughtful pause, then: "Pop, how do you know when you're through?"
