

FLOWER SHOW ATTRACTS 400

Wiley A. Rogers and Mrs. W. V. Swan.
 Modern arrangements: Mrs. J. Ward Long and Mrs. W. V. Swan.
 Miniature gardens: Harvey Linda Bryant and Mrs. T. W. Porter.
 Table arrangements: Mrs. Frank M. Killian and Mrs. W. B. McGuire.

The show was held in the Stockton building on Iotia street, and the large first floor store-room was filled with displays.

The event was open to the public from 1 to 9 p. m., and numbers of spectators registered during the afternoon, while the room was crowded during the evening hours.

Among exhibits that drew special attention from visitors were Miss Bryant's miniature garden, complete even to growing grass; Mrs. Porter's garden scene, a woods-surrounded lake with a fisherman casting; the many miniature arrangements, some of them measuring not more than an inch square; Mrs. Rogers' mountain kitchen and Mrs. Swan's arrangement of vegetables and flowers, in the artistic arrangement class; Mrs. Killian's Chinese scene and Mrs. McGuire's arrangement of open Bible, old-fashioned spectacles, and flowers, in the table arrangements class; and the garden wedding scene arranged by Mrs. J. L. West, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. West placed non-competitive displays in the two store windows. Arrangements for the show were made by the Garden club's flower show committee, made up of Mrs. Frank Higdon, Mrs. Alice Rimmer, Miss Mary Willis, and Mrs. I. T. Peek, with the cooperation of all club members.

ATHLETIC FIELD MEET PLANNED

Jr., treasurer, reported this week.

Next Monday's public meeting was called, following a committee meeting at the field Tuesday afternoon. In announcing the public meeting, Mr. Gaines, pointing out that the school here serves a large part of the county, emphasized that all interested persons throughout the county are invited.

Six Girls Back Home From Methodist Camp

Six girls from the Franklin Methodist church returned Friday from the Methodist Youth camp near Hendersonville. Those who attended the week's camp were Nancy McCollum, Brandon Christy, Jean Russell, Ann Snyder, Mary Ann Johnston, and Joe Ann Henderson.

Old Newspaper Mirrors Highlands Life In '83

(NOTE:—The following advertisements and news items are from a 66-year old issue of The Blue Ridge Enterprise, newspaper established in Highlands by E. E. Ewing, previously editor of The Kansas Farmer, in 1883, however, the publisher was A. F. Clark.)

The old newspaper from which the items below are taken—issue of November 20, 1883—was found in the C. H. Withersill home on West Main street, Highlands, when the house was being remodeled some months ago.—Editor.)
