Dr. Janowsky Offers
Seven Suggestions
To Macon Folk

The question, "What measures can Macon County citizens take for the protection of the community against an atomic attack?" was answered this week by Dr. Carl C. Janowsky, district health officer, thus climaxing a series of interviews with the health officer concerning protection against atomic warfare.

In answering the question, Dr. Janowsky pointed out that he would not attempt to answer the question in full, since it involves considerations far beyond the scope of the health department.

The best complete answer, he said, is "making sure that this community has organized a committee for civil defense, and making sure that the committee is actually functioning."

The department's concern, Dr. Janowsky declared, deals entirely with health measures that can be taken by the individual for his protection and the protection of other families in his community. He outlined the following measures for the benefit of Macon County citizens.

"1. Be sure that you and your children are immunized against disease, and keep your immunizations up to date. Children over three months of age should begin immunizations ('shots') for smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus. Adults should be immunized every year against typhoid; every three years against tetanus; approximately every five years against smallpox.

"2. Know your blood type and keep a record of it on your person. This will facilitate giving blood to you in an emergency. You may be typed by your own doctor, or you will receive this service, if you donate blood to the Red Cross.

"3. Be sure you have had a blood test within the past year. This will assure you that you do not have any serious blood disease which may make the difference between life and death, if you should become an A-Bomb casualty.

"4. Protect your water supply against contamination. The health department will help you with this, if you desire.

"5. Keep a supply of canned and packaged foods on hand. These can be used after washing the outside of the container, even after exposure to the gamma rays from an atomic explosion.

"6. Keep in good physical condition by proper diet, proper exercise, sufficient rest and sleep, personal cleanliness, and prompt attention to minor illness. The health department is prepared to help you with advice concerning these matters.

"7. See your doctor once a year for physical examination to maintain good health at all times, but especially during this emergency. Do it now, if you have neglected this."

Feed Mill

Starts Construction Of New Home

The Franklin Feed Mill is erecting a new building across the street from (and west of) the depot, and Bruce Palmer, owner, said this week that if good weather holds, the mill will be in its new home and ready for business within 90 days. The firm's new home is expected to represent an investment of between $13,000 and $15,000, he said.

A two-story, cinder-brick structure, the new mill will be 50 feet by 100 feet, with a 50 feet by 50 feet basement housing all of the milling machinery, he said. The second story will be used for storing grain.

Mr. Palmer said plans call for a large loading platform and conveyor belts to load and unload grain, to speed up operations so Macon County farmers will not lose time at the mill. Fronting the building, he said, will be a 75-foot parking lot, and special storage bins will be installed so farmers can market all of their grain at the mill.

"I realize," Mr. Palmer said, "that our present location on the highway has been an inconvenience to our patrons, not to mention motorists who have had to dodge around trucks unloading at the old mill. I appreciate the people's bearing with us."
