Woman's Club Holds Banquet; Sees New Film

Highlighting the annual installation banquet of the Franklin Junior Woman's club last Thursday night was an address by Mrs. Carl Killian, of Cullohee, past woman's club district president.

Introduced by Mrs. Adele Jenkins, outgoing president, the speaker placed special emphasis on the potentialities of club projects as a means of carrying out community improvements.

New officers installed at the banquet included Miss Harriett Murray, president, Mrs. Nancy Keener, secretary, and Mrs. Betty Sue McKay, treasurer.

Miss Audrey Hays sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Ann Hays on the piano. A recitation was given by Miss Margaret Jones.

A new movie, "Dare County—Birthplace of America", which is being shown county-wide by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, also featured the evening's program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pearson gave the invocation and the group was welcomed by the club's new president, Miss Murray.

The banquet, held at Panorama court, was attended by some 35 club women.

DEATH CLAIMS J. P. HUDSON HERE FRIDAY

Resident Of Macon Since 1910 Passes At 70; Rites Saturday

James Putnam Hudson, a carpenter and resident of Macon County since 1910, died Friday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Maude Hudson Norton, seventy years old, he had been ill for some time.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mrs. Norton's home on Iotla street by the Rev. C. E. Murray, pastor of the Franklin Methodist church, and the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, rector of the St. Agnes Episcopal church. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Born September 18, 1881, Mr. Hudson was the son of Dr. William J. and Mrs. Martha Josephine Turner Hudson, of Humphreys county, Tenn. He had worked as a crew foreman for the Alabama-Great Southern railroad before moving here nearly 42 years ago, and was a member of the Junior Order.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Norton, include a sister, Mrs. Vera Henry, of Franklin; two nephews, and three nieces.

Pallbearers were Clarence Henry and U. L. Hudson, both nephews, and Ras Penland, John Crawford, Ralph Penland, and Roy Mashburn.

Arrangements were under the direction of Potts Funeral home.

PRESCRIPTION COSTS

Sometimes the cost of a prescription seems high. That is because it requires a drug which is rare and, therefore, expensive. But modern mass production methods steadily bring the price down. An example of this is penicillin. Nine years ago a single dose of penicillin cost $22.

You can be sure that the prices we charge for prescriptions average no more than you would pay anywhere else.
