Harrill Addresses Highlands Graduates; 350 Are Present

Approximately 350 persons heard W. B. Harrill, of Western Carolina Teachers college, give the literary address at Highlands High school graduation exercises last Wednesday night at the new school auditorium. Seated on the stage with the senior class were the Rev. Robert E. Early, pastor of the Methodist church, who gave the invocation, the speakers, and the high school chorus.

The five seniors graduating were Louis Reese, valedictorian, Haze Edwards, salutatorian, Onville Owens, and Misses Pearl Chastain and Edith Head.

Mr. Harrill was introduced by O. F. Summer, school principal. In his address Mr. Harrill stressed the fact that everyone is a teacher of children, and also stressed the strong, lasting influence parents have over their children. He listed the three main attributes of teachers as courage, or the willingness to stand for what is right no matter what the cost may be, vision, and love, giving examples based on his long experience as a public school principal.

The salutatory address was given by Haze Edwards and the valedictory by Louis Reese. Special music was by the high school chorus. Class mascots were Becky Nall and Billy Newton. In addition to the valedictory medal, young Reese received the valedictorian's certificate, and a year's subscription to Readers Digest. the elementary school. He stated that if the students in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades would all continue in school until they reach high school there would then be an enrollment of approximately 125 students which would mean two additional teachers. He urged parents to encourage school children to stay in school until graduation.

On the last day of school, students and teachers were entertained with a free movie by Mr. Summer, school principal and owner of the Galax theatre.
