

We Have the Materials for SISALKRAFT SILOS
Great for Grass Silage!

Valuable, Low-Cost Fodder
It's worth a lot of money to you to put up grass silage. You can provide silo space for plenty of this fine, low-cost silage by erecting SISALKRAFT silos. They cost very little. Snow fence or wire fencing, lined with double layers of SISALKRAFT, are all you need. Thousands of farmers whose permanent silos can't carry any more load, use SISALKRAFT silos every year for extra silage. It pays!

MANY OTHER USES
Tough, waterproof SISALKRAFT is used in various widths for covering haystacks, sealing silo doors and tops, lining houses, barns, etc., grain bins, corn silos, and for many other farm uses.

Enrollment In Schools Up; 422 New In System

Four hundred twenty-two new faces were beaming up at first grade teachers with the opening of the 1952-53 school year last week, according to figures made public Monday by County School Supt. Holland McSwain.

Total enrollment in the system, as of Friday, was 3,798, an increase of 37 for the same period last year. High school enrollment jumped from 743 last year to 792. Elementary enrollment this year, including 70 Negro pupils, is 3,006, slightly less than last year's figure of 3,016, for the same period.

The school superintendent said principals have indicated that about 60 more elementary children and four high school students still have not enrolled but should this week.

Of the 422 first graders this year, 14 are Negro. Total membership at the close of the 1951-52 year in May was 3,647. When compared with the new enrollment figure it shows an overall increase of 151. Schools opened September 3.
