Scout Lewis Cabe Passes For Eagle Rank; Awards Presented 3 By Murray

Lewis Cabe, of Franklin, Troop 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cabe, was passed for advancement to the rank of Eagle Scout at a Smoky Mountain District Court of Honor Friday night at the First Methodist church.

He will be elevated to Eagle—the highest rank in scouting—at the district's December court of honor.

The Rev. C. E. Murray, Methodist minister here, recognized three local Boy Scouts at his Sunday morning service and presented them "God and Country" awards for outstanding work under the supervision of their pastor for a year.

The three were Lewis Cabe, Tommy Gnuse, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gnuse, and Ben Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards.

An estimated 100 persons attended the court of honor.

Conservation District Plans Election To Select Member Of Three-Man Board In December

A man to serve on the three-man board of the Macon County Soil Conservation district will be selected in an election the week of December 1 to 6, E. J. Bradley, secretary, has announced.

J. S. Gray, of the Riverside community, and Frank Ammons, of the Clark's Chapel community, have been nominated for the post, which is for a term of three years.

The winner will succeed Owen Ammons, of Franklin, Route 4. The other members of the three-man board are E. J. Bradley and Milton Fouts.

During the election week ballot boxes will be placed in feed and fertilizer stores throughout the county and at the Agricultural building in Franklin, Mr. Bradley said.

Thanksgiving Reading Marks P. T. A. Meeting

The reading of a Thanksgiving worship service by the Rev. C. E. Murray, Franklin Methodist minister, marked the program of the Franklin Parent-Teacher Association, at its November meeting Monday night at the school.

Mrs. Bill Phillips, membership chairman, reported 256 persons have joined to date, and asked all parents of children in the Franklin school who have not already done so to send their 25-cent membership fees to her or to their children's teachers. Mrs. Pearl Hunter's room won the prize for obtaining the largest number of members during the drive, she announced.

Mrs. John Bulgin, Parent Teacher Magazine chairman, asked persons who wish to subscribe to get in touch with her or with Mrs. Edgar Angel, president of the association. The subscription price, she pointed out, is only $1.25 per year.

Mrs. Angel announced plans for a fall bazaar, to be held at the Nantahala Power and Light Company building December 6, under the joint sponsorship of the P. T. A. and the grade mothers.

Miss Edna Jamison, treasurer, reported a balance of $623.44 in the treasury, most of it raised at the carnival, the family night supper, and from the sale of refreshments at football games.

The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Pearl Hunter, and Mrs. Angel presided.

Mrs. Woodrow Reeves reported an attendance of 60 persons. The attendance prizes were won by the rooms of Mrs. Myra S. Waldrop and Mrs. Lola Kiser.
