MISS INEZ CRAWFORD'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Gilmer Crawford, of Franklin, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss May Inez Crawford, to Frank Isaac Murray, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Murray, also of Franklin.

The wedding will take place August 22.

MISS MARY E. HIGDON MARRIES CAPT. INGRAM

The marriage of Miss Mary Ellen Higdon, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Franklin, and Capt. H. D. Ingram, Jr., U. S. Air Force, was solemnized on Saturday, June 6, at the St. Matthews Lutheran Church in Washington.

Miss Higdon is the daughter of John W. Higdon, of Franklin, and Mrs. Mary Southard, of Asheville. Capt. Ingram is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ingram, of Birmingham, Ala.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip in Pennsylvania.

Upon their return they will reside at Willow Run, Mich., where Capt. Ingram is stationed.

MORGAN-CLAYTON WEDDING MARKED

Miss Hazel Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judd Morgan, of Franklin, became the bride of George William Clayton, Jr., of Andrews and Asheville, on Sunday, June 7, at the Franklin Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. E. Murray, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Henry Cabe, organist, and Mrs. Clarence Henry, vocalist.

The church was decorated with native greenery, floor baskets of white gladiolus, and candelabra holding lighted cathedral tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of imported Chantilly lace accented by a small scalloped collar and scalloped short sleeves with matching lace mitts. The scalloped motif was repeated in the bouffant skirt. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of matching lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with gardenias.

Mrs. Edwin T. Williams was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a white nylon net over ice blue bodice and matching bolero. Her head-dress was a bandeau of flowers and she carried a nosegay of mixed pastel flowers.

G. W. Clayton, Sr., father of the bridegroom, served as best-man. Ushers were Edwin T. Williams and Merrill Rayburn, of Kingston, Tenn.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of mauve lace with which she used black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Clayton, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a rose crepe dress with white accessories. Her flowers were white rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home for members of the wedding party and the immediate families. Arrangements of snap-dragon in pastel shades and babies breath were used in decorating. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

After the reception, the couple left for a short wedding trip. The bride wore a white linen suit with brown and white accessories.

Mrs. Clayton is a graduate of Western Carolina College, Cullowhee, and teaches at Clyde High School.

Mr. Clayton is a graduate of N. C. State College, Raleigh, and a veteran of World War II. He is now employed as a right-of-way engineer with the N. C. State Highway Commission in Asheville.

You're in this SUCCESS STORY

RECOGNIZE any of these people? You should—because they are friends and neighbors of yours. Men and women of the South... in every walk of life. People like... you!

Yes, wherever you work, whatever you do, you are helping to write the Southland's spectacular "success story" that means so much to all of us in the South.

For it takes more than a wealth of resources and abundant natural advantages to make a land truly great. It takes confident, forward-looking people with willing hands, receptive minds and loyal hearts.

This is the real strength of the modern South. This is its hope for the future. This is... YOU!
