Wanted, said the operator, a party spending a few days in Highlands. Where could he be reached? Instantly, Tony gave a Highlands telephone number. Thank you, said the operator. It was coincidence, for Tony was one of perhaps three who knew the identity and whereabouts of the man being called. Information-giver Chambers knew that the man was staying with his father, Overton S. Chambers. (Who else would've known?) Wonder what Knoxville thought of the Chamber's information service... rather Chambers' information service.
