would be justified in doing anything necessary to eliminate such procedures being carried on in the name of our government. I doubt that the so called Russian "Truth Baths" could have been any more unfair or non objective. Read it and decide for yourself if you think that is American justice.

House Care Hints

A thumb tack placed low on the back of a picture frame will prevent a dark line from forming on wall paper or painted wall.

A piece of dampened absorbent cotton will pick up tiny fragments of broken glass.

Dirt will slide off a waxed dustpan more easily than an unwaxed one.

Wax the slats of Venetian blinds and dusting will be much simpler.

Feather pillows should be aired on a cloudy, windy day rather than in the sun because sun rays draw the natural oil out of the feathers and destroy their resiliency.

A small amount of starch in the ticking of a pillow will keep the feathers from poking through.

To remove fruit juice spots from white cottons and linens, pour boiling water on the stain from a height of two or three feet. If it does not come out, use a household bleach, rinse well. On washable colored and fine fabrics, sponge with cool water. If this does not work, apply warm glycerine; let stand a few hours, rinse well. Wash in warm suds.

To remove mildew spots, wash white cottons and linens in hot suds, moisten with lemon juice and salt, and dry in the sun. If stain is old, bleach with household bleach, rinse well. If stain is on washable colored or fine fabrics, use warm suds. No satisfactory method is known for non-washable material.

W. L. LEDFORD DIES MONDAY

Was 92; Services Held Tuesday Afternoon At Asbury

(Unavoidably omitted last week) William L. Ledford, 92, retired Macon County farmer, died August 3 at his home in the Coweta section after a brief illness.

Funeral services were conducted the following afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Asbury Methodist Church by the Rev. Robert L. Poindexter. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Jones Joins Law Firm In Franklin

G. A. Jones, Jr., last week became associated with the Franklin law firm of Jones and Jones.

Graduated from the University of North Carolina law school in June, 1949, Mr. Jones was licensed to practice law the following August. Since that time, he has been with the N. C. Wildlife Resources Commission as chief of the wildlife protection division. During World War II, he served in the navy as a fighter pilot, and now holds a commission as lieutenant commander in the naval reserve.

He has bought the home formerly occupied by the Emory Hunnicuts on Sunset Drive, and he and Mrs. Jones and their two children have moved into their new home.

Three Traffic Lights Okayed By Town Board

To combat increasing traffic tie-ups, the Franklin Board of Aldermen has authorized the purchase of three new traffic lights.

One will be installed at the intersection of West Main and US 64, another at Harrison Avenue and West Main, and the third at the county courthouse to clear up congestion there.

A low bid on gasoline and supplies for town vehicles, submitted by the Franklin Service Station, was accepted by the board in session August 3 with the understanding that the station's prices on supplies are in line with competitors. The bid, one of four received, offered 3 1/2 cents off per gallon of gas and 20 per cent discount on other items.

With school opening in less than a month, the board pushed ahead a proposal to build a sidewalk on heavily-traveled US 23 from Womack's Service Station to School Street, which leads to Franklin High School. The sidewalk will be approximately 450 feet long. School groups have been urging this construction since the completion of the new school.

Also authorized was the purchase of a new uniform for each of the town's three policemen. B. L. McGlamery and Farrell Penland appeared in behalf of the local Lions Club to request the town to purchase street signs for unmarked streets and replace a number of broken ones. Lions purchased the street signs several years ago as a project. The board voted to follow the suggestion. It also was announced that H. H. Plemons is now working on a map for a house numbering project, which the Lions will sponsor, and the board gave this project its approval.

Town Clerk C. O. Ramsey announced he planned to advertise delinquent 1952 taxes beginning August 17.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT A KERATOLYTIC IS A MUST.

What is a keratolytic? An agent that softens the infected skin. It then peels off, exposing more germs to the killing action. Get Keratolytic at any drug store. If not placed in your shoe, your shoe is useless. Today! (Unavoidably omitted last week)
