MACON RURAL CONTEST ENDS THIS SUNDAY

Judging Next Week; Will Name Winners At November 7 Dinner

Sunday marks the end of the 1953 Macon County Rural Com-Development Contest and Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday will find the hopes of 13 communities riding with two out-of-county judges, whose job is to pick six winners.

The winners, who will not be announced until the night of November 7 at a special awards dinner, will divide $1,025 in prize money contributed by interested businessmen.

Judges will be Homer Gilliland, who is in charge of the community development pro-gram at the Cherokee Indian Reservation, and Mrs. Velma B. Moore, home agent in Clay County

The judges' schedule for the three-day period follows, with the location at which they will begin judging in parenthesis:

Monday, November 2: Carson, 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. (East entrance sign); Cartoogechaye, 10:30 to 12:30 (Shields' Store) Patton, 1 to 2:30 (West entrance sign); Longview, 2:30 to

Tuesday: Mulberry, 8:30 to 10:30 (North entrance sign); Smithbridge, 10:30 to 12:30 (South entrance sign); Prentiss, 1 to 3 (North entrance); Clark's Chapel, 3 to 5 (Prentiss Bridge)

Wednesday: Holly Springs, 8:30 to 10:30 (North entrance); Bethel, 10:30 to 12:30 (Wallace Morgan's home); Oak Grove, 1 to 3 (Dock Byrd's home); Tellico, 3 to 5 (Lost Bridge entrance sign).

The November 7 awards dinner is slated for 7 p. m. at the Franklin High School cafeteria. It is being sponsored by all of the communities entered in the rural contest in appreciation to those who backed the contest by contributing prize money. All contributors will attend as special guests, according to County Agent S. W. Mendenhall, secretary of the county contest coun-

Scheduled as guest speaker for the dinner is F. H. Jeter, of Raleigh, extension service

The awards schedule for the six winning communities, as announced by W. W. (Bill) Sloan, council treasurer, is as follows: 1st place, $400; 2nd, $250; 3rd, $150; 4th, $100; 5th, $75; and

All of the 13 communities also are entered in the W. N. C. con-test, which was used as a pat-description of the First Baptist the ages of 18 and 50 to regis-ter some time during the two-movie, "They That Were Scat-day labor survey. test last Spring.

In both contests, Community Organization and Development and Farm and Home Improvements count 1,000 points each with each classification broken into different categories for scoring.

So, this week finds the 13 communities teeming with ac-tivity as the deadline approaches. Last minute projects are being pushed to completion, committees are hustling to collect those all-important family score sheets, and those working on scrapbooks are keeping paste and paper flying.
