Honey Is Good — And Good For You; So, Give These Recipes A Try

There are many reasons why honey is good — and good for you.

Honey is a natural sweet, gathered from many species of flowers and consequently may have quite a range of delightful flavors. Honey contains natural sugars which are easily digested.

Children, old folks, and athletes especially, benefit from the quick energy obtained from honey. It may be used satisfactorily in baby formulas. The use of honey during pregnancy not only helps maintain the good health of the mother, but also that of the baby.

Honey contains minerals and vitamins and our North Carolina honeys, being of darker color and fuller flavor, are richer in these than are the mild flavored light honeys.

Honey is a year round food. Use it as a spread on bread, as a sweetener in beverages and on fruits and cereals, in cakes and cookies to replace all or part of the sugar in your favorite recipe, and in glazing meats and vegetables. Remember that most of our honeys have a decided flavor which you will want to consider in combining it with other foods.

Baked products made with honey stay moist longer. Use it in fruit cakes, puddings, and breads.

Try these honey recipes:

HONEY FRUIT CAKE

- 1 cup prunes
1 cup dried apricots
1 cup golden raisins
2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup blanched almonds
1 cup walnut meats
1 1/2 cups finely cut citron
1 cup finely cut candied pineapple
1/2 cup thinly sliced candied cherries
1 cup finely cut candied orange peel
1 cup finely cut candied lemon peel
1 cup shredded coconut
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons allspice
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/4 cups shortening
1 1/4 cups honey
6 eggs

Rinse dried fruits and dry thoroughly. Cut prunes from pits into small pieces. Slice apricots fine. Chop almonds and walnuts. Combine dried fruit, nuts, candied fruit and peels, and coconut with 1 cup flour. Sift together remaining flour, baking powder, salt and spice. Cream shortening thoroughly. Blend in honey gradually, and beat well. Beat eggs thoroughly and add slowly to creamed mixture, blending well. Beat in sifted dry ingredients. Pour batter over floured fruit mixture. Mix thoroughly. Pour into 10-inch tube pan which has been lined with 2 thicknesses of brown paper and 1 waxed paper. Bake in slow oven (250 degrees F.) 4 to 4 1/2 hours with shallow pan of water in bottom of oven during baking. Makes about a 7 pound cake.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE

1 cup honey
1 cup apple sauce
1 egg
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup seeded raisins
1/4 cup nut meats

Cream butter and honey, add apple sauce and beaten egg. Sift flour with other dry ingredients, add raisins and nuts and add to first mixture. Beat well and bake about 1 hour in a moderately hot oven. This cake may be made several days before serving as the flavor improves with age.

Constitution Presented To Club; Dr. Valentine Speaks On Birds

The Highlands Garden Club met last Thursday at the Satula Club room. Mrs. A. T. Carter, president, presented the proposed constitution to the club. It was read and discussed article by article and minor changes were made. The constitution was left open to be voted on at the February meeting.

It was voted unanimously to hold future meetings of the club at the Highlands Community Hospital in the hospital auxiliary room and not to serve any refreshments.

In line with the club's main objective, the civic beautification of Highlands, Mrs. Ben Williams was asked to look into the question of where to get and where to plant dogwood trees.

The guest speaker was Dr. J. Manson Valentine, an all-round naturalist, whose interest in and love of birds has taken him to many places.

Dr. Valentine told of what happens when people try to rearrange the balance of nature by killing off all the predatory animals in a wild life reservation. It was not long before the animals placed there weakened and then die, he said, adding that the predatory animals are helpful because they kill off the weaklings, leaving the strong to carry on. Another instance of wild life he gave was how a colony of wrens keep their number about even. When the colony tends to increase, the birds lay fewer eggs, and when the number decreases they lay more eggs.

The next meeting will be held February 18 at 2:30 p. m. at the Highlands Community Hospital. This meeting will be on the design and landscaping of small gardens and perennials that have been found to grow most successfully in Highlands. It has been suggested that some of the club members might like to bring to the meeting a drawing of their present garden in order to jot down helpful ideas for future improvement.
