next month in Charlotte, the final report will not be ready until the end of the summer, Dr. McCutcheon said.

Institutions studied were: Three senior colleges — Davidson, Queens at Charlotte, and Flora Macdonald at Red Springs; four junior colleges—Lees-McRae at Banner Elk, Mitchell at Statesville, Peace at Raleigh, and Presbyterian at Maxton; and one high school — Glade Valley, near Sparta.

Meanwhile, Dr. McCutcheon has been given a second assignment, under another Ford Foundation grant.

After 29 years at Tulane, 17 as dean of the graduate school, he retired there this spring, but will start on his new work, expected to require about four years, September 1. His new position is director of graduate studies in higher education at Vanderbilt University, Nashville. In that post, his duty will be to introduce into the Ph. D.

program of prospective college teachers courses, experience, etc., designed to turn out better instructors. He will work with an advisory committee of about 12 Vanderbilt faculty members from the several divisions that offer work leading to the Ph. D. degree.

Under the program, scholarships will be available, amounting to $3,000 for married, and $2,500 for single candidates, for the last year of their Ph. D. work.

Dr. and Mrs. McCutcheon, who are well known here, having spent each summer in Macon County for many years, and Dr. and Mrs. Agnew and their two children, Jocelyn and Edith, arrived Wednesday of last week. The Agnews, who have taken one of Dr. Cecil Mann's cottages, on Wayah Road, expect to be here until early in August.

Driving without an operator's license resulted in the arrest and conviction of 12,239 Tar Heel motorists in 1953.

Rumor

About Moccasins Involves '3 Impossibilities'

Recurring rumors about cotton-mouth moccasins being in Cliffside Lake and Arrowood swimming pool were scotched this week by the Forest Service.

Commenting on the rumors, Robert W. (Bob) Pearl, assistant forest ranger, said most of the reports seem to be based on the theory that snake eggs were unintentionally put in the pools when they were being stocked with fish eggs.

That, said Mr. Pearl, would involve "three impossibilities":

1. Arrowood pool has never been stocked.
2. All stocking is done with fish; no eggs are used.
3. All poison snakes give birth to their young—they are not hatched.
