Veteran halfbacks Richard Renshaw and Bobby Womack each pushed across two touchdowns Friday night as the Franklin Panthers downed Hayesville 27 to 6 at Hayesville. Tomorrow (Friday) night the Panthers go out of town for the second straight week, this time to Jackson County for a conference game with Sylva High. The kickoff will be at 8 o'clock.

In Friday's game, the Panthers played favorite for the first time this season. And they lived up to the part as they rolled through the mud for 27 points in the first three periods. Coach Howard Barnwell used substitutes liberally throughout the second half.

Franklin took over early in the game when George Barrett, who was outstanding on defense, blocked a Hayesville punt and Bobby Gregory recovered it on the nine. Womack moved the ball to the five and Renshaw hit off-tackle for the first score. Gregory added the extra to make it 7 to 0.

In the second quarter, the Panthers marched 62 yards for another score. Renshaw made the TD and Womack the extra. Womack took over the scoring honors in the third quarter on a 45-yard broken field run that put the score at 20 to 0. Later in the quarter Bobby Jack Love threw a 63-yard pass to Womack for the final score. Crawford Moore passed to Bud Siler for the extra point.

Hayesville scored in the fourth period.

Design for Better Living—Good nutrition is the homemaker's everyday responsibility. It isn't something that she can put off until "tomorrow" or "next week" or "next year". Every meal should be carefully and thoughtfully planned and prepared, using the seven basic foods as a guide.

Leafy, green and yellow vegetables—1 or more servings daily. Citrus fruits, tomatoes, raw cabbage — 1 or more servings daily.

Potatoes and other vegetables and fruits — 2 or more servings daily. Milk, cheese, other milk products — 1 pint to 1 quart daily.

Meat, poultry, fish, eggs — 1 serving daily if possible; eggs — three or more a week.

Bread, flour, and cereals—enriched, restored, whole grain — three or more servings a day.

Butter, fortified margarine—2 or 3 servings daily, or one with each meal.

We are becoming more aware of the constant need for good nutrition. That may be one reason why hot lunches have become an institution in many schools.

TOWN PICKS ANOTHER SITE

Four Locations For Franklin Building Being Considered

A fourth piece of property as a possible site for the proposed Franklin City Hall is now being considered by the Board of Aldermen.

In session Monday night, the board authorized Town Attorney R. S. Jones to obtain an option on the Blaine property at the intersection of West Main and US 23-441.

On September 28, voters gave the town the go-ahead for constructing a municipal building by voting $50,000 in bonds to finance it.

The three other sites under consideration are the town-owned lot at the intersection of Iotla and Church; Dr. E. W. Fisher's lot next to Macon Theatre; and one owned by Grover Jamison, Sr., between the Jamison and Coffey homes on Palmer Street.

Members of the board expect to spend roughly $10,000 for the site since the figure seems to be in line with business real estate.

In a special statement to The Press, Fire Chief A. C. Tysinger said his department, which will be housed in the new building, favors the Blaine lot after a survey of several sites. The chief said this particular lot would be more suitable than the others because it is in an uncongested area, would provide adequate parking space for the firemen when they report for a fire, is in an "all-points" position for reaching sections of the town quickly, and police would be able to more efficiently control traffic when the fire trucks are called out.

Congestion and a lack of parking space has handicapped the department in its present quarters at Iotla and Church, he said.

"We, of course, are looking for a site that will enable us to operate more efficiently and give the town better service... we need some place away from the business district," Chief Tysinger explained.

The board is expected to make a decision as to the site at an early date.

While in session the aldermen voted unanimously to reject a request for a $25 per month salary increase from Policeman Nelson Ledford. The officer's request was relayed to the board by Mayor W. C. Burrell. Officer Ledford said he felt he was entitled to more money because he works the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift.

In line with the town's policy to provide water for all homes within the city limits, the board assured Frank L. Henry, Jr., of a water line to his property across from the airport. Mr. Henry is now in the process of opening a small sub-division there. The line will be put in as soon as construction starts on the property.

Franklin Juniors Sponsoring Festival Saturday Evening

A "fall festival" will be sponsored Saturday night at Franklin High School by the junior class. It has been announced.

Features of the evening, which will start at 7 o'clock in the cafeteria, include a "mystery person", special booths, food, guessing games, cake walks, and Bingo.

A "kiddie's room", under the supervision of adults, will be operated for parents wanting a baby sitter, according to Mrs. J. Frank Martin, class sponsor.

Proceeds of the event are earmarked for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

There are 44 slaughtering plants in North Carolina, utilizing 2,800 head of beef animals a week.

WHAT IS IT?—Mrs. W. E. Furr, of Franklin, would like to know what it is she has grown (above). The plant, of the cactus family, she says, blossomed forth last week with a star-shaped flower. Mrs. Furr and her friends are still pouring over books trying to determine the name of the plant. Anyone know?

Timely Farm Questions State College Answers

Q. How much pasture do I need?
A. Every farmer should provide at least one and one-half acres of improved permanent pastures or equivalent for each mature cow or horse and mule on his farm. Four brood sows is the equivalent of one cow. Twenty hogs, two 500-pound heifers are all the equivalent of one cow.

Q. What makes good permanent pasture?
A. Look at your land first. If it is clay soil or moist soil, then Ladino clover and orchard grass or Ladino clover and fescue should be the backbone of the grazing program. They will produce more feed over a period of years properly handled than any combination of plants now available.

Q. Why does milk production fall off in hot weather?
A. The lack of feed is the main reason, although hot weather and flies usually take the blame. When weather gets hot, pastures dry up rapidly. Cows graze less hours because of the heat and flies so they end up short of feed.

Q. How many eggs do most hens lay in a year?
A. The average North Carolina hen lays about 154 eggs a year, or just a few more eggs than are needed to pay her feed bill. Flock owners should try to have flocks that will produce 200 or more eggs per hen under average conditions. This is possible if care is used in buying replacement stock and if careful feeding and management is carried out.

Q. Is raising sheep in North Carolina profitable?
A. Yes. Sheep afford two sources of income through the sale of lambs and wool. The labor, grain and equipment requirements for sheep are small as compared with other livestock, and the initial investment is small.

Q. How many pine seedlings should you plant per acre?
A. Under average conditions for loblolly, shortleaf, and slash pine, yellow poplar, or white ash, you should plant 1,000 seedlings per acre. White pine and longleaf pine need 1,200 per acre.

HEALTH CENTER MOVE STOPPED

Names Must Be Put On Doors; Move May Come November 1

The health department's scheduled move to the new Macon County Health Center this week-end was postponed.

Names must be lettered on the office doors and a door facing painted the wrong color must be repainted before the architect can approve the building for occupancy, according to Lake V. Shope, secretary to the Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. Shope said Lindsey Gudder, Asheville architect who planned the building, informed him last week by telephone that the building could not be used until the above items were taken care of.

Installation of a sewer line at the center also was scheduled to be completed prior to the department's proposed move. However, this work was temporarily halted, Mr. Shope said, when the order not to move was received.

As things stand now, the move should be made by the first of November, he said.

The one-story building — financed jointly by the Medical Care Commission and the county — is on Riverview Street.

Blind Drive Brings $493 In Franklin

The local Lions Club's 1954 "White Cane Drive" has brought in $493 to date — more than triple the club's goal, according to Prelo Dryman, drive chairman.

Of the amount one-third will remain in Macon County for the blind work, the chairman said. If needed, all of it will be used here, he added. However, as a rule two-thirds of the amount raised goes to the state association.
