By Law Changes Social Security Benefits Broadened

The Social Security law contains a special provision, recently enacted by Congress, which can be of great significance to residents of this county, according to Glenn H. Pittenger, manager of the Asheville district office of the Social Security Administration.

Affected by the change are survivors who were previously ineligible for benefits because the family breadwinner had not worked long enough under Social Security to be insured under the old law. Now survivors' monthly benefits may be payable if the breadwinner died after June 30, 1940 and before September 1, 1950, and was under the Social Security system for a period of as little as a year and a half at any time after January 1937. These survivors could be dependent parents, widows with children under 18, or children alone, and widows when they become 65. Another fact often overlooked, with consequent loss of benefits to survivors, is the fact that Social Security credits can be given, in many cases, for military service after September 7, 1939. Thus it may be possible for widows and children under 18 to receive Social Security payments now if the family breadwinner had about a year and a half of military service after that date, even if he never had a Social Security number.

Got an itch to switch the pitch?

Here's the New Hit in Hardtops — the 4-Door Riviera

Want to do what a pilot does when he clears for take-off?

Want to feel the pulse-quickening thrill that comes of giving the gun to a high-powered automobile with the world's first airplane-inspired transmission?

Want to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* — the spectacular new wonder drive that's the talk of car makers and car buyers alike — and the drive that's sending Buick sales soaring to new record-breaking highs?

Well, sir — be our test-pilot guest at the wheel of a '55 Buick and let today's Dynaflo do the honors.

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas . . .

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflo unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy — like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and — like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb — you switch the pitch of those Dynaflo propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience — because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

And we'd like you to try it — along with the walloping new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today — this week, for sure — and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
