Maconians Invited To Enter Exhibits In Spring Festival

Macon County amateur creative artists—in a wide variety of fields—are invited to enter exhibits in a Spring Festival to be held in Asheville June 19-30, according to an announcement received here.

Awards will be given in the following classifications:
Poetry, music, art, book-plate design, short story, feature or sketch, juveniles, radio or TV scripts, speeches, ceramics, china painting, one-act plays, silvercraft, enamel painting on metal, and photography.

The winning entries will be displayed at the Little Art Gallery, Asheville, during the festival. The event is sponsored by Asheville branch of the National League of American Pen Women. Deadline for entries is June 1.

Copies of the rules and other information may be obtained by writing the Little Art Gallery, 12½ Wall Street, Asheville.

The Motor Vehicles Department says there were 40,449 reported traffic accidents in this state last year.

Jury Suggests Repair Work On Buildings

The Grand Jury recommended some minor repair work on county buildings following its inspection last week.

Jurymen found the prison camp in good condition, but suggested some fence repairs. A leaky roof and the need for hot water at the county home was noted. The county jail was reported in good condition, while the courthouse was termed in fair shape, considering its age.

Bill Bryson, of Franklin, was appointed foreman of the grand jury by the court.

C. S. Sams was sworn in as officer of the jury with the responsibility of carrying papers and messages between the court and the jury while it is in session.

Jurymen included N. G. Davis, Claude Duvall, Milton Fouts, George Stanfield, Zeb Roane, Freeman Hastings, Mark Bryant, John Hughes, Claude Ledford, Henry Waldroop, Carl Carpenter, Richard Norton, Floyd Roper, James C. Myers, Grady Wilkes, Edward Coates, and Jarvis Ayers.

Two Macon Men To Participate In Army Event

Two Macon County soldiers are scheduled to participate in Logex-55, an army-wide exercise set for May 2-7 at Fort Lee, Va., the Army Home Town News Center announced this week.

The men, both military policemen regularly stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga., are listed as Pvt. Morris W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Wilson, of Highlands; and Pfc. James F. Stewart, son of J. B. Stewart, of Franklin, Route 3.

Pvt. Wilson attended Highlands High School and entered service in March of last year.

Pfc. Stewart also entered service in March of last year. He attended Franklin High School and his wife, Mrs. Effie Stewart, lives on Franklin, Route 3.

TO OBSERVE WEEK

Mt. Zion, Maiden's Chapel, and Gillespie Chapel Methodist churches will observe "National Family Week" Sunday, May 1, according to an announcement by the Rev. Robert Goldston, pastor of the churches. All married members of the congregations are urged to attend.

Harold Corbin Gets Discharge From Air Force

Harold Corbin, son of Mrs. Henry D. Corbin, and the late Mr. Corbin, of Franklin, Route 4, arrived home last Tuesday, after receiving his discharge from the U. S. Air Force.

He served four years, two in Germany, as air policeman and was discharged with the rating of staff sergeant.

He attended Franklin High School before entering service.

Miss Kesler Returns To Open Craft Shop

Miss Sally Kesler, of Richmond, Va., has returned to Franklin, after an absence of a year, to take charge of the Nonah Craft Shop on Cartoogechaye.

Miss Kesler had previously worked at the craft shop for more than two years. She will live in the community building adjoining the shop.

Several men of the Cartoogechaye community spent Saturday putting on a new roof on the shop. The ladies of the community served lunch.

School District Committee Law Change Clarified

When the County Board of Education, at its meeting April 14, reduced the membership of the Franklin school district committee from eight to five, it was explained that this was to conform to a provision of a new school law, pending in the General Assembly.

Erwin Patton, board chairman, explained this week that this was in error. The change, Mr. Patton said, was to conform to the present law, which provides that school committees shall be made up of from three to five members.
