Courthouse Talk Says Primary Filing Action Will Start 'In Hours'

Yesterday (Wednesday) morning, politics and the weather behaving pretty much alike. They were cold.

But, both showed signs of improving; the weather because of a warm front moving in and politics because of Saturday's filing deadline.

Politically, Franklin business-man J. C. Sorrells still was the only one seeking an office in the May 26 Democratic primary. He is after the nomination as county representative

However, just before presstime, there were rumblings along the hall of the county courthouse and reports that some filing action would take place with the elections board chairman "within a few hours"

In addition to the representative, the "off-year" election is being held to select a board of education and county surveyor
