Mrs. Mozeley, Former Otto Postmistress, Dies At 85

Mrs. Arie Helen Mozeley, former school teacher and postmistress at Otto, died Friday (Sept. 14) at 6:15 p. m. at her home at Otto. Eighty-five years old, she was a native of this county and the widow of W. Ed Mozeley. Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Asbury Methodist Church, of which she was a member. Officiating were the Rev. Glenn Anderson and the Rev. R. L. Poindexter. Burial was in the church cemetery. Mrs. Mozeley was born March 15, 1871, the daughter of Hamilton P. and Mrs. Betty Conley Penland. She and Mr. Mozeley were married in 1897. He died in 1939.

Surviving are a son, James P. Mozeley, of Kinston; two daughters, Mrs. Tom Alley, of Otto, and Mrs. Edith Justus, of Norfolk, Va.; six grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren. Serving as pallbearers were John Conley, Robert Stewart, Max Vinson, Arthur Blaine, Max Parrish, and Gilmer Henson. Arrangements were under the direction of Bryant Funeral Home.

during the period of the Soil Bank agreement; land designated must have previously been used for the production of wheat; the spread of noxious weeds must be controlled on the land.

Miss Corbin also said the county committee will not permit the designation of irregular or "minimum" size tracts that cannot be readily measured.

Self feeders and automatic waterers will save a lot of labor in hog production, say swine specialists at North Carolina State College. Provide at least one water cup to each 20 pigs and one self feeder hole for each four pigs on pasture and for each three pigs on drylot.

Carson Talks About Fair

MRS. LEONA W. MOORE
(Community Reporter)

A booth and individual entries for the county fair took up most of the business discussion at the regular meeting of the Carson Rural Community Development Organization on September 14. The president, Nelson Waldrop, presided.

The group voted to pay one-half the expenses of 4-H member Robert Wallace to the leadership training school.

Plans also were made to do some painting in the community building kitchen and to hang a door at the entrance of the hallway.

Work of the scrapbook committee was discussed. Members of the community have been busy with home improvements.

Jobs Still Open In Reactivated Battalion Here

A second meeting to reactivate Company C, 347 Engineering Aviation Battalion here is set for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 at the V. F. W. Building on Palmer Street.

Under the reactivation program, there are still several jobs open, according to Gardner Holden and Roy W. Isley, who are in charge. They said the unit is still short of its organizational quota of 12 enlisted men and three officers. All interested veterans are invited to attend tonight's meeting for more details.

The unit's headquarters are to be in Franklin.

Wheat Acreage Filing Extended To Oct. 5

An extension has been granted for filing 1957 wheat acreage agreements under the wheat acreage reserve phase of the Soil Bank, according to Miss Mildren Corbin, manager of the A. S. C. office here.

Farmers may now sign up through October 5, she said. These rules must be followed: land placed in the acreage reserve must not be cropped or grazed

WHICH WAY

Empire at Crossroads

DOES it surprise you that North Carolina leads the nation in textile, tobacco and household furniture production, yet ranks 43rd in per capita income?

Why is it that 22 of North Carolina's 100 counties lost population in the last census decade? Why are so many of our college graduates seeking careers elsewhere?

How can we remedy a situation brought on by too large a percentage of non-agricultural workers in low-wage brackets, and the largest farm population in the nation, much of it fighting a losing battle with mechanized agriculture and competition from chemical substitutes for farm products?
