2 Soldiers In Alaska

Two Macon County soldiers recently arrived at Fort Richardson, Alaska, under "Operation Gyroscope", the U. S. Army's unit rotation plan, the Army Home Town News Center announced this week. They are identified as Pvt. William H. Bradley, son of Herbie Bradley, of Otto, and Pvt. Charles J. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Rogers, of Franklin, and husband of Mrs. C. J. Rogers, of Route 2.

Pvt. Bradley is a member of the 2nd Infantry Division, which is changing stations with the 71st Infantry Division. An ammunition bearer with the division's 23rd Regiment, he entered the army in January, 1956, and took his basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Pvt. Rogers is a machine gunner with the 23rd Regiment. He has been in the army also since January. Prior to entering service he worked in Pontiac, Mich.

Holland Is Charged For Attacking Man

A warrant has been served on Lem Holland, of the Double Branch section, charging him with assault and damage to personal property stemming from an affray on Franklin's Main Street Friday morning about 10 o'clock, according to Chief C. D. Baird.

In the complaint, Holland is alleged to have attacked Bill Vanhook, an employee of the Dixie Home Store, as he was on his way to the bank on store business. He suffered a broken nose and cuts and bruises.

A hearing is set for the last of this week.

Layman's Program Set For Church In Absence Of Pastor

In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. S. W. Moss, who is attending the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church in Winston-Salem, a layman's program will be held at the Franklin Methodist Church at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

In the last half of 1956, meat production is expected to fall below the 1955 level because of the reduced spring pig crop.

BUTTERMILK - A glass of buttermilk is a wonderfully refreshing drink - along with your meals or as a between meal pick-up. Nutritionists tell us it is rich in calcium and vitamin B2 or riboflavin which helps to make and keep you young looking and acting. Buttermilk can also be used in a variety of ways as witness these recipes from Virginia Wilson, extension nutritionist at N. C. State College.

BUTTERMILK NUT BREAD:

1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg
 2 cups buttermilk
 1 cup chopped nuts
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 4 cups flour
 Beat egg; add sugar, buttermilk and nuts, mix well. Then add the dry ingredients through a sifter. Blend thoroughly. Turn into 2 greased loaf pans. Bake 1 hour in a moderate oven (350°F.) Place paper over the tops during first half of baking time. Dates or raisins may be substituted for nuts.

SAVORY PORK CHOPS:

6 lean pork chops
 1 teaspoon salt
 pepper
 1 1/2 cups buttermilk
 2 tablespoons flour
 1/2 bay leaf
 1/4 cup water
 Brown pork chops on both sides in a heavy skillet; add seasonings, bay leaf and buttermilk. Simmer gently until pork chops are tender (about 1 hour). Blend flour with water to make a thin paste. Add the paste to the liquid in pan and stir until this gravy is thickened.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Should I grow feed for my dairy cattle?

A. Feed for the dairy cow, in so far as is practical, should be produced on the farm. Commercially speaking, the cow is a marketing agent for farm feeds. If her feed is grown on some other farm or in a distant section, transportation and handling costs are involved. In this way, the cow is handicapped from the start in converting such feed into profitable milk and butterfat. North Carolina farms can produce legume hay, silage crops, corn, cotton seed, soybeans, peanuts, small grains, and good pasture—all the necessary feeds for profitable milk production.

Q. What effect does weather have on forage crop diseases?

A. Weather conditions, especially temperature and moisture, largely determine the destructiveness of the disease. They are responsible for a disease being of epidemic proportions one season and of minor consequence the next. Unfortunately, weather conditions in North Carolina favor the development and spread of certain forage diseases the year around.

Q. When is the best time to transplant my azaleas?

A. Azaleas and camellias, like other plants, can be transplanted any time, provided adequate roots and soil are taken with the plants. However, the dormant season, October through February, is the best time to move them.

A seasonal rise in prices of fed cattle is likely this fall. Farmers will market fewer than in the same period of 1955. But marketing of grass cattle will be up, indicating that prices are likely to stay below a year earlier for some time, report the observers in the Agricultural Marketing Service.
