

Here are some good coffee delicacy recipes.

Coffee Whipped Cream: Ever so delicate . . . ever so handy . . . dresses up plain desserts in a jiffy. And 1 tablespoon sugar and 2 teaspoons instant coffee to 3/4 cup chilled whipping cream. Beat until cream thickens and holds shape. Do not overbeat. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Demitasse: After-dinner drink, served in small cups. Make strong instant coffee in a coffee server, using 2 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee to each 3/4 cup water. Or make brewed coffee, using 3 to 4 level tablespoons of ground coffee for each 3/4 standard measuring cup water. Serve demitasse in very small (demitasse) cups. Usually demitasse is taken black. But it's perfectly proper to serve cream and sugar for guests who may not like coffee black.

Frosted Mocha: A thick, super-special milk shake for treat time. Combine 2 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 cups chilled milk, and 1 cup chocolate ice cream. Shake or beat until thick and fluffy. Makes 3 servings.

Good Neighbor Coffee: A rich, coffee-chocolate drink made the easy way. Make rich hot cocoa or hot chocolate by any favorite recipe. Add 1 teaspoon instant coffee for each cup of cocoa or chocolate. Beat until light and frothy. Serve hot with mounds of coffee Whipped cream.

As many cattle will be slaughtered in 1957 as in 1956, say marketing officials with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What kind of a container is best for household plants?
A. Anything that will hold soil and allow water to enter and leave through the bottom or sides will do. Take your choice—clay, glass, or metal. Syco bowls look good, they absorb surplus water and then release it back to the soil. See your florist for details.

Q. Is there any simpler way to treat house plants for insects than by dipping?
A. Dipping is an effective method of insect control on house plants, but it is very inconvenient. Most stores handling garden supplies now stock aerosols and "squeeze" dusters which are designed to apply both insecticides and fungicides to house plants.

Q. How can I keep lard from becoming rancid?
A. Seal lard in half-gallon jars while hot. This will keep the air away from the lard. All lard sealed in jars can be stored in the smokehouse.

Q. What is the main objection to farm cured meats?
A. Many meats are too salty. This can be prevented by following a curing schedule. The information on how to do this is available through your county agent's office.

Q. What should I do to control scale insects or ornamental shrubs and trees?
A. Now that the plants are dormant is the best time to control these pests. Apply dormant sprays containing either liquid lime sulphur or oil. Remember, however, lime sulphur stains buildings or fences painted with any of the lead containing paints.

Q. Does anyone know how much land will be planted to trees under the Conservation Reserve phase of the Soil Bank program?
A. Recently all the county A. S. C. committees were asked to submit estimates on this. They reported, first of all, that over one-half million acres of existing cropland in the state should be planted to trees. They estimated that nearly 200,000 acres of this would be planted over the next three years if tree planting stock is available to do so.

Q. Should I plant Goldrush sweet potatoes?
A. The N. C. Extension Service recommends Goldrush and copper skin Goldrush only under two conditions. (1) If fusarium wilt is a serious problem, both are wilt resistant. (2) If a marketing outlet has been arranged in advance of planting.

The skin color of the copper skin Goldrush is very similar to Porto Rico. Therefore it competes in the market place to a higher degree than does Goldrush. Goldrush has a russet-golden skin

MRS. KING IS ELECTED

The Patton Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday night, Jan. 9, at the Patton Community building. Officers elected for the year were Mrs. Dorothy King, president; Mrs. John D. Wells, vice-president; Mrs. Paul P. Blaine, secretary; and Mrs. Harley Stewart, treasurer.

Project leaders chosen were Mrs. Judd Tallent, food and nutrition; Mrs. Leona Emory, home garden; Mrs. Jim Emory and Mrs. Paul P. Blaine, home poultry; Mrs. R. D. Wells, food conservation; Mrs. Fred Hannah, housing and home furnishing; Mrs. Homer Cochran, home management; Mrs. Anna Ledford, family life; Mrs. Nina Liner, home beautification; Mrs. John D. Wells and Mrs. Paul P. Blaine, clothing; Mrs. Ruth Patton, arts and crafts; Mrs. Mack Moffitt, health and safety; Mrs. Nina Liner, education; Mrs. Elizabeth Patton, citizenship and international relations; Mrs. Roscoe Higdon, music; Mrs. Paul P. Blaine, publicity; Mrs. Ernest Wright, recreation; and Mrs. Harley Stewart, 4-H Club leader.

Each project leader was asked to have a report on her project ready for discussion at the next meeting of the club.

Garden Time . . .

By M. E. GARDENER

I have been taking notes for this week's "Garden Time" in the small greenhouse of a friend. You knew him as Robert Schmidt who wrote this column for five years. He built the house for his own pleasure and enjoyment and, believe me, he is having the time of his life.

This particular house is 14 feet wide, 18 feet long and is constructed of aluminum and glass. It has a ground bed in the center, and two raised benches on either side which are as long as the building. The ground level bed is four feet wide and the benches three feet. This leaves space for walkways. Heat is supplied by bottled gas and controlled by automatic ventilators which maintain a constant temperature. The house cost him a little less than $2,000 with water and electric connections. Due to his physical condition, it was necessary that he hire all work done.

Now, you say this is too much and not practical for me. I agree, but this is not the end of the story. We have figured that the house could have been built for less than half the amount it cost him by: Using redwood instead of aluminum; hand controlled ventilators instead of automatic; and doing the job yourself. Anyone who can read a simple blue print can construct one of these houses for the cost of materials. Materials for small houses can be supplied in several dimensions and fabricated by the manufacturer. In addition, they can be placed against the south side of a building and heated from the heating unit in your house. In this case the side of the building will serve as the north wall of the greenhouse.

While I pass his greenhouse almost every day, I had not stopped recently to check on the plant materials he has growing. Here is a partial list: tomatoes, lettuce, snapdragons, sweet peas, poinsettia, begonia, coleus, lemon plant, rubber plant, geraniums, amaryllis, orchids, ageratum, snake plant, fuchsia, oleander and three kinds of philodendron. He has propagated most of the plants himself and all are growing in pots of various sizes except tomatoes, lettuce and snapdragons. These are in the ground bed.

Meat Tenderness Being Studied

Meat tenderness is inherited in animals and can be passed to succeeding generations through selective breeding, report researchers with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Scientists of the department's Agricultural Research Service are studying the heritability of tenderness as one approach to the production of animals that will consistently produce tender meat.

Although no extensive advances have yet been made in the development of more tender beef animals by selection and breeding, the department researchers are optimistic about the possibility of improving meat tenderness quality of larger animals through breeding programs.

They are also trying to develop a quick, reliable test for tender-animals. One method now being explored involves biopsy samples—taking samples of live muscle tissue for laboratory analysis. Such a test would make slaughter unnecessary, and animals showing tenderness characteristics could be used as breeding stock.

Tenderness experiments at the Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, Maryland, have been made so far chiefly with rabbits, and to a lesser extent with beef cattle. Tenderness in rabbits was found to have a "heritability factor" of about 53 per cent, and in beef cattle about 41 per cent. These percentages represent the degree to which tenderness is determined by genetic differences. Other factors, which also influence meat tenderness in individual animals, include age, sex, management practices, and fatness.

The annual cost of grain eaten or contaminated by one rat is estimated at $20.

WEED MEETING Is Tomorrow

A meeting of tobacco growers has been called for tomorrow (Friday) at 2 p. m. at the Agricultural Building.

Roy R. Bennett, specialist from N. C. State College, will be on hand to discuss varieties, spacing, control of insects and diseases, and production increase, according to County Agent T. H. Fagg.

color, and the average homemaker immediately thinks that it is of the Jersey type. Therefore, it generally brings prices for Jersey type potatoes, which are considerably lower than for Goldrush.

Q. How do I get rid of cattle grubs?
A. Since the grubs are now close to the animal's back and will soon cause "bumps" to appear, treatment with rotenone dusts or sprays will be most effective. These grubs emerge over a three-month period. Therefore, treatments will be needed every three or four weeks for at least three treatments.
