Garden Time . . .

By M. E. GARDNER
Daffodils and tulips give us much pleasure in early spring and are to be found in most of our gardens. The question is: should they be taken up every year, every second year, or every third year? It is not necessary to lift daffodils every year but it is highly desirable that the bulbs be dug, divided, and replanted every third year. This will give them a better chance to grow and reproduce.

If yours need to be moved, wait until the leaves begin to turn yellow before digging. While the leaves are still green they are manufacturing food and storing it in the bulbs for next year's flowers. They may be dug, divided, and replanted immediately or they may be dried and stored in a cool place and held for fall planting.

The tulip is somewhat different. Tulip bulbs should be taken up and replanted every second year. The bulbs may deteriorate rather rapidly and for this reason it is sometimes best to buy fresh bulbs every year if large flowers are desired. If bulbs are to be replanted, do not dig them until the leaves turn yellow as was the case with daffodils.

Bearded (German iris) is blooming now in our neighborhood and will be ready to divide and transplant in about a month. However, plants may be divided and transplanted any time during the summer and early fall. A good division consists of a new rhizome, or thickened underground stem, with a cluster, or fan, of leaves. After the division has been made the

Carson Honors Slagles; Fund Begun For Angels

By MRS. LEONA W. MOORE
(Club Reporter)

About 50 people of the Carson community met at the community center April 28 to mark the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Slagle.

Mr. Slagle gave the land for the community center and has been a great help and inspiration in community work.

At the gathering, a fund was started to assist the Carl Angel family, whose home burned April 27. Persons wishing to help with this community project are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Earl Cabe, the community treasurer.

rhizome should be planted so that the top of it will be even with the soil. Deep planting is not desirable. Bearded iris do best in well drained soils which dry out rather quickly.

Cool weather in the spring frequently interferes with fruit setting on tomato plants. This is particularly true of the first two or three flower clusters that are formed. Hormones, or plant regulators, applied to these first clusters may give you earlier tomatoes and more total production. They may be purchased from your seedsman under the trade names of "Blossom Set" or "Fruitone". If you want to experiment, use one of these materials according to accompanying directions. Spray on the open blossoms with an atomizer or fine spray.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

By WEIMAR JONES

If they had ever read even a sixth grade American history, they would know that the most revered Americans—Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Franklin—had radical ideas about their form of government. Ideas so radical, they rebelled against their form of government, and set up a brand new kind. These patron saints of our American form of government believed things could be improved—and that means change.

"This form of government that you want nobody to have any radical ideas about—who set it up? A group that didn't stop at being subversive; they were revolutionaries. And the very ideas on which this government rests were, and are, about as radical as any ever conceived. For what could be more revolutionary than to believe in the good sense of the average man? than to go still farther and hold that the people have a right to make their own decisions, even the wrong decisions?"

"I don't know whether this young man has any radical political ideas. What he thinks is not my business. I doubt if it is yours.

"But go back and tell your superiors that this young man grew up in a state that was careful to write into its very constitution that 'the people . . . have the inherent, sole, and exclusive right of altering or abolishing their constitution and form of government . . ."

"Go back and tell them that, in their zeal to protect the physical safety of this country, they have forgotten—if they ever knew—what it was that this nation was founded to do . . . to assure all men the right to think what they will."

scot-free" than have our Bill of Rights altered to do away with the Fifth Amendment.

There is a move on now to do just that. It is a scheme to wipe out abuses of the Fifth Amendment by abolishing it. We put the plan in the same category as the move to do away with the federal income tax—without specifying where the U. S. could then get the money it needs for defense and other necessary government activities. Both are proposals that are "boobcatchers", i.e., ideas or plans without any merit that are calculated to have some special emotional appeal to boobs.

Fortunately the liberal spirit—and we don't mean "pseudo liberal", either—is infinitely stronger than the boobcatchers, to say nothing of the whales whose spouts are showing.

Schumann And Handel Program Features Meeting

Mrs. Roy M. Biddle, Sr., and Mrs. H. W. Cabe were hostesses to the Franklin Music Study Club at the former's home April 26.

A program featuring the compositions of Handel and Schumann was presented by Mrs. W. L. Nothstein, program leader for April. Those appearing on the program were Mrs. Donald E. Whelan, who gave papers on the two composers, their lives and music, and Misses Linda and Sherry Whelan, who played a recorder duet, "The Harmonious Blacksmith", theme and variations, by Handel, accompanied by their mother at the piano.

Mrs. Charles Shields sang "He Shall Feed His Flock", by Handel, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Cooper; Mrs. Weimar Jones, pianist, played "Davidsbundertanz", Numbers 1 and 17, by Schumann; E. C. Kingsbery sang "The Two Grenadiers", by Schumann, accompanied by Mrs. Kingsbery.

Mrs. Weimar Jones, president, appointed a nominating committee, who will present a slate of officers to be elected at the May meeting.

Guests were Mrs. Shields, Mr. Kingsbery, and Mrs. M. C. McCormack, of Asheville, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nothstein.

Waterfall Visible Now From Wayah Road

Timber has been cleared from in front of a waterfall in Wayah Valley and the attraction is now visible from the paved road.

The falls is one of three on Wyant Branch, which has its head in the Wayah Wildlife Refuge and runs down to the property of Ed M. McNish. Mr. McNish cleared a viewing area through his property and obtained permission from the U. S. Forest Service to cut through a hundred feet or more on their property to the waterfall.

Four big hemlocks frame the falls.
