The children's division in the home demonstration dress review last week had 31 entries, from play clothes to suits and coats. Blue ribbons were awarded the above five. They

71 Garments Are Modeled At Annual Dress Review

Cartoogechaye Is Host Club; Winners Listed

Before a background of dogwood and to the tune of "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody", 71 garments were modeled at the annual home demonstration club dress review at Cartoogechaye School May 8.

About 250 attended. Cartoogechaye was the host club.

The children's division had 31 entries, from play clothes to suits and coats.

Jeanne Enloe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Enloe, of Franklin, Route 1, won first place in the play clothes group.

In the school clothes group, awards were as follows: Nancy Ruth Crockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Crockett, of Route 1, first place; Ann Maddox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Maddox, of Route 1, second place; and Dorothy Higdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Major Higdon, of Route 5, third place.

In the best clothes group winners were: Jane Byrd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Byrd, of Route 3, first place; Carolyn Moses, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moses, of Route 5, second place; and Carolyn Setser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Setser, of Route 1, third place.

In the suits and coats group, winners were: Janice Burrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Burrell, of Route 4, first place; Rebecca Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Carson, of Franklin, second place; and Judy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Bennett, of Route 3, third place.

Models Pajamas

Elizabeth Ann Ammons modeled pajamas and the duster set made by her mother, Mrs. Paul Ammons, of Holly Springs club, and was awarded first place in the adult "Fashions For Home" group. Mrs. Charlie Williams, also of the Holly Springs club, won second place with a brown checked print house dress.

Mrs. T. H. McNish, of Cartoogechaye club, modeled culotte and halter made from chambray. Mrs.

McNish designed these play clothes to win first place.

In street clothes, or general wear, Mrs. Anna Ledford, of Patton club, modeled a black sheath dress made from rayon linen with white collar. She was awarded first place. Mrs. George Gibson, of Iotla club, was awarded second place, and Mrs. Charles Williams, of Holly Springs club, third place.

$4.55 Coat

In tailored suits and coats, Mrs. Boyd Burrell, of Iotla, modeled an all-weather coat which cost $4.55. Mrs. Burrell's coat was lined with red Millium. She was awarded first place. Mrs. Earl Justice, of Holly Springs, won second place. Miss Joan Curtis of Upper Cartoogechaye, modeled a suit made by her mother. She won third place.

In the best dress group, Mrs. A. D. Carter, of Higdonville, won first place with a dress and duster of turquoise which she designed. She used a large collar with lace from an old dress. The outfit cost less than $5 and she was awarded first place. Mrs. Bryan Setser, of Sandtown, won second place. Mrs. Bob Parker, of Cartoogechaye, won third place.

Week's Work Brings $1,250 In Memberships

A week's work has raised more than $1,250 of the Franklin Chamber of Commerce's 1957 membership goal of $4,500.

J. C. Crisp is chairman of the annual campaign.

The chamber's goal this year is a record figure. It earmarks $1,000 for tourist promotion alone.

Also now under way is the revision of the chamber's accommodations folder, which lists restaurants, motels, tourist homes, and other businesses.

Under new policy this year, non-chamber members must pay a listing fee. In the past, their businesses have been listed along with those of dues-paying members, according to Mrs. Lasca E. Horsley, executive secretary.
