37 Turn Out For Meeting At Patton

By MISS MILDRED BINGHAM (Club Reporter)

Thirty-seven persons turned out May 7 for the regular meeting of Patton Rural Community Development Organization.

Plans for holding a supper with Carson community to discuss helping the Carl Angel family, which recently lost its home to fire, were made.

A band composed of Jack Nichols, Carnell Dewesse, John D. Wells, Paul Smith, Weaver Hurst, and Ralph Penland entertained.

History Skit Given At Cowee Rural Gathering

By MRS. GRACE TATHAM (Community Reporter)

Cowee folks' knowledge of such historical periods as the Civil War and pre-Revolutionary America paid off Thursday night when program chairman Mrs. Josephine Roper conducted a TV history skit at the Cowee Rural Community Development Organization meeting.

A number of prizes were awarded. The $5 attendance prize went to Luther Raby.

It was reported $50 worth of playground equipment for the community playground, located at Cowee School, has arrived and is in use. The group set aside work days for Saturday of last week and Monday night of this week to improve the Cowee picnic area.

A house-to-house canvass was made last week end in The Franklin Press's profit-sharing subscription contest.

C. A. P. Major Wilson To Visit Franklin Squadron On Friday

Major Juanita Wilson, of Asheville, an officer with the N. C. Wing of Civil Air Patrol, is scheduled to meet with the Franklin C. A. P. Squadron tomorrow (Friday) night.

The meeting is set for 8 o'clock at the airport.

A recruiting campaign for senior members and cadets in the local squadron is now in the planning stages and should be kicked off within the next week, according to the commander, Capt. Frank Plyler.

He also announced that Franklin is now in line to receive an L-5 aircraft for permanent assignment and he predicted that this will help stimulate interest in the squadron's activities.

In addition, the squadron is next in line for an aircraft that is rotated among squadrons in the state, he said.

The aircraft will be used for orientation flights for cadets and qualified senior members.

Episcopal Ministers Are Named Deputies At Annual Meeting

Macon County's two Episcopal ministers were named deputies to different Episcopal functions at the 35th annual convention of the Diocese of Western North Carolina, which closed at Rutherfordton Thursday of last week.

The Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, of St. Agnes church, in Franklin, was chosen a deputy to the provincial synod. Dr. Herbert Koepf-Baker, of the Highlands Church of the Incarnation, was named deputy to the general convention. Attending the diocese meeting with Mr. Morgan were Donald E. Whelan, of St. Agnes, and Bill Lenoir, of St. Cyprian.

Going from Highlands were Dr. Koepf-Baker, Alfred Hallett, Tudor N. Hall, and Col. James Howe.

Union School Eighth Graders Talking Of Many Things After Down East Trip

Union school eighth graders have plenty of things to talk about.

Things like the Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill, the State Fair ground in Raleigh, the Governor's Mansion, the State Museum, and radio and television.

It all has to do with their recent bus trip down east.

The eighth graders left here May 2. First stop for "looking" was in Chapel Hill, site of the University of North Carolina. In addition to the planetarium, the class saw the Old Well, Old East Dormitory, the Bell Tower, the Sundial, and Kenan Stadium, where the Tar Heels play football.

They spent the night at the youth camp at the state Fair-Ground and on Friday had a full day of visiting in the Capitol building, the Governor's Mansion, Andrew Johnson's birthplace, the Hall of History, two state museums, and television Station WNAO-TV and radio Station WKIX.

The class returned home Saturday night.

Making the trip were Faye Kimsey, Ida Mae Ramey, Dorothy Stockton, Patsy Cunningham, Florence Mason, Jean Sanders, Katherine Sanders, Patricia Shope, Thelma Shope, Katherine Watts, Allene Williamson, Catherine Hall, Doyle Bates, Wayne Burrell, Donald Dehart, Erwin Gribble, Doug Ledford, Gerald Mason, Jack Sorrells, Doug Teague, J. B. Woody, and General Sanders.

Accompanying them were Principal and Mrs. R. A. Byrd and Mrs. Quince Shope.
