Year's Final Lamb Pool Slated Aug. 8

The fourth and final lamb pool for 1957 will be held Thursday of next week (Aug. 8) at the stockyards in Clyde, and County Agent T. H. Fagg recommends that producers take advantage of it.

"Our farmers who have sold through this pool this year have been very well pleased with the way their lambs have graded and the prices they have received for them," the agent said. "I believe this is one of the best market outlets we have for our lambs."

He said the same rules will be in effect that governed the three previous pools. These are that lambs entered must arrive in Clyde on the date of the sale between 7 and 10 a. m., the animals should weigh 80 pounds or above, and the county agent's office should be notified about the number the seller plans to send.

This information must be given the county agent's office by tomorrow (Friday), in order that shipping space can be arranged.

Mr. Langfitt and Mr. Williams will make several trips a week throughout the presbytery explaining the church's new budget system to individual churches.
