Teachers Take In Workshop

Some 40 Macon County teachers put in some extra hours last week attending an art workshop at Franklin High.

The art consultant in charge of the workshop was Henry C. Richmond, of Ridgewood, N. J.

Classes were held for the teachers every afternoon Tuesday through Friday.

Mr. Richmond attended Columbia University School of Architecture and spent 10 years with large architectural firms in New York City. Since the early 30's he has been interested in the arts and has addressed fine arts societies and college meetings on the chemistry of colors and the compatibility. He has held workshops in more than 10 states.

By schools, teachers attending the workshop, were:

Cartoogchaye: Mrs. Mildred Swafford, Mrs. Onnie Cabe, Mrs. Katherine Henry, Miss Grace Carpenter, Miss Josephine Dalton, and Mrs. Grace Wilson.

Cullasaja: Z. Weaver Shope, Mrs. Joyce Cagle, and Mrs. Pauline Cable.

East Franklin: Mrs. Myrtle Dryman, Mrs. Amy Deal, Mrs. Fannie Mae Arnold, Mrs. Dora Lee Carpenter, Mrs. Katherine Crawford, W. G. Crawford, Mrs. Hazel Sutton, and Mrs. Lucille Wurst.

Franklin: Mrs. Margaret Ramsey, Mrs. Mamie Scroggs, and Miss Edna Jamison.

Highlands: Mrs. Regina Schiffli and Mrs. Irene James.

Iotla: Mrs. Marie Roper and Miss Lolita Dean.

Otto: E. G. Crawford, Mrs. Beatrice Alley, Mrs. Nellie Owens, and Mrs. Hazel Norton.

Union: Mrs. Lucy Bradley, Miss Alice Slagle, Mrs. Jessie Horsley, Mrs. Katherine Jones, and Mrs. Gay Teague.

Chapel: Addison R. Shepard and Mrs. Emma English.

Mrs. Beth Guffey, elementary supervisor, and Miss Esther Seay and Mrs. Gladys Kinsland, special education teachers, also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Conley and Mrs. Nannie Officer had as their guests the past week, Mrs. Charles Alman and daughter, Miss Edith Alman, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Alman, of Baltimore, Md.

LOVING YOU

Brady's BLARNEY

By A Brady Called J. P.

Mrs. Robert Parrish, of Route 3, mailed me a "Smile A While" that observes:

"Just think of the money our towns passed up back in the good old horse and buggy days because no one was bright enough to make piggy banks out of the hitching posts in the town square."

No doubt because of my recent columns about my visit to New York City, Mrs. Rita Coggins, of Route 1, comes up with a bit of poetry about her experiences in the big city.

After describing in verse some encounters along Times Square and Broadway, she closes neatly with:

And back to the hills of North Carolina I did roam.
I no longer cared for a New York home.

A former Franklinites now living in Mt. Vernon, Wash., Fred Dowdle, sends me a series of four poems entitled, "Trees, But Not By Joyce Kilmer".

Here they are:

The Aspen
Don't think the aspen is dissembling
When in the autumn breeze it's trembling;
If you went nude each winter through
The way it does, you'd tremble too.

The Sycamore
The sycamore's a lovely sight,
With bark that is part dark, part light;
But if our faces were as blotched,
We'd send the human race was botched.

The Apple
If Isaac Newton hadn't been
Beneath an apple tree and seen

That apple fall, today we'd be
Without the law of gravity.

The Elm
The elm, that stately of trees,
Is dying of Dutch elm disease.
Why can't Dame Nature use her head
And kill off folks who should be dead?

Have you heard the one about the little girl who came home from Sunday School full of glowing reports of the lesson about "Moses and the Pills"?

Her parents couldn't quite figure this one out, but the little girl finally wised them up by explaining how "Moses went up the mountain and came back with a bunch of tablets".

NEAR CHEROKEE —

19 Boy Scouts Camp Out

Nineteen Boy Scouts of Franklin, Troop 21, camped out Friday and Saturday at Smokemount, near Cherokee.

The campers included Doug Slagle, Fred Bulgin, Tommy McCollum, Jerry Patton, Howard Burch, Larry Dryman, Bobby Swan, Johnny Swan, Michael Coates, Tommy Nolen, Tommy Fagg, Billy Joe Hurst, Herbie Hurst, Charles Slagle, David Childers, Steve Bundy, Douglas Vinson, Jimmy Gnuse, and Lee McGlamery.

Adult leaders making the trip were Dr. J. L. Hill, John Bulgin, George M. Slagle, and John Swan.

Since 1940 the gross dairy farm income has tripled, from $35,229,000 to more than $100,000,000.

'College Day' At Franklin Hi Slated Tuesday

"College Day" is slated at Franklin High School Tuesday afternoon.

District Principal Harry C. Corbin this week said about 25 representatives of colleges and universities are expected to be on hand to discuss college careers with interested seniors from 1:15 to 3:15.

Mr. Corbin also extended an invitation to parents of the seniors to attend.

Seniors at Nantahala and Highlands have been invited, he said.

LEARNING HOW CARSON DOES IT

Faustine S. Macutay, deputy assistant to the president of the Philippines, was here one day last week to visit Carson Community and learn how the prize-winning rural community conducts its development work. With Mr. Macutay are (L to R) Morris L. McGough, executive vice-president of the Asheville Agricultural Development Council, W. W. (Bill) Sloan, treasurer of the local rural contest council, Mr. Macutay, Mrs. Earl Cabe, Carson secretary, and Mrs. Van Frazier, Carson president.

MISS WALDROOP WEDS G. E. ROPER

Miss Katherine Waldroop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Waldroop, of Franklin, Route 1, became the bride of George Earl Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orphe Roper, of Franklin, Route 4, in a double-ring ceremony performed Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 25, in Wauhatchie, S. C.

The bride wore a powder blue princess-style dress with black and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple were accompanied by Miss Carolyn Waldroop, cousin of the bride, and Paul Smith, both of Franklin.

Mrs. Roper is a graduate of Franklin High School, Class of 1955, and for the past year has been employed at Franklin Hosiery Company.

Mr. Roper is a graduate of Franklin High School, Class of 1949, and received his B. S. de-

MRS. M'GUIRE FETED ON 80TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. W. B. McGuire was honored at a surprise 80th birthday celebration Saturday evening.

Mrs. McGuire's birthday is Oct. 1, but the observance was arranged for the week end, so that her children could all be present.

The event took the form of a dinner party at Kelly's Inn, arranged by Mrs. McGuire's son, W. B. McGuire, of Charlotte.

The twenty persons attending the dinner, in addition to the honoree, were her children and their families — Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Flonk, of Charlotte, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McGuire and children, of Charlotte, Mrs. E. C. Bullock and family, of Charlotte, Mrs. Marshall Pierson, of Jacksonville, and ree from Western Carolina College in June.

After a wedding trip, the couple plan to make their home in Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. Margaret Cooper and son, of Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bulgin, Mrs. George Bulgin; Mr. and Mrs. John Bulgin; Mrs. J. A. Flanagan; and Mrs. J. E. Rice.

Davenport Appears On Program For Business Research

George Davenport, sales manager for Franklin Mineral Products Corporation, participated in the President's Conference on Technical and Distribution Research for the Benefit of Small Business in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 24.

Mr. Davenport, who is president of the Wet Ground Mica Association, Inc., in New York City, demonstrated how small business can benefit from university research.

He presented a case history of the association-sponsored research program at New York University on the use of wet ground mica in various paint systems.
