William B. (Bill) Garrison, president of the Franklin Rotary Club, and Mrs. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. McKelvey, Robert C. (Bob) Carpenter, Clyde W. Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Weimar Jones attended the charter night dinner meeting of the Murphy Rotary Club in Murphy Oct. 7. Holland McSwain, formerly of Franklin, is president of the new club.

13 Members At Meeting

By MRS. EDWARD CRAWFORD (Club Reporter)

The Ridgecrest Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, Oct. 15, at the home of Mrs. John Smith with 13 members present. Mrs. Jesse Thompson gave the devotional.

As home gardens project leader, Mrs. Jeter Higdon gave a report. Mrs. Mabel Swan, assistant home agent, gave a demonstration on the types of floor coverings and their care. She also showed samples of the different types.

All members were asked to bring money for their yearbooks to the next meeting.

Three Area Resorts Are In Travel Book

Three resorts in the Franklin area have received national publicity in the new edition of travel authority Duncan Hines' "Vacation Guide", which is now off the press.

The three resorts are the High Hampton Inn and Silver Slip Lodge, at Cashiers, and the Highlands Country Club, at Highlands. They are among 31 resorts recommended by Duncan Hines in North Carolina.

According to the Duncan Hines Institute, the publishers, "Vacation Guide", now in its 10th year of publication and its 12th printing, is greatly expanded in its listings.

Publications Among Winners At Roundtable

Franklin High School's two publications, The Laurel Leaf and The Mountain Echo, placed among the winners at the annual W. N. C. High School Editors' Roundtable held Oct. 11-12 on the campus of Western Carolina College.

The yearbook Laurel Leaf won fourth place among large schools, while the student newspaper, The Echo, placed fifth in mimeographed publications submitted by large schools. The publications judged were those put out during the 1956-57 school year.

A large number of staff members attended the roundtable, which is jointly sponsored by the college and the Asheville Citizen-Times Company.

Members of the newspaper staff going included Iva Lee Brookshire and Jean Franklin, co-editors, Arthur Hays, Vianne Keener, Danny Cagle, Jackie Clark, Pauline Morgan, Buck Bingham, Barbara Waldrop, and Judy Wurst.

Those on the annual staff attending were Joann Burrell, editor, Gary Clark, Frances Tallent, Scotty Byrd, Pat Hedden, Frances Alexander, Dwain Horsley, Joann Cunningham, Jean Burrell, Nancy Siler, Harvey Linda Bryant, and Shirley Cruse.

Mrs. Anne P. Biddle, newspaper advisor, and Miss Darlene Collins, yearbook advisor, accompanied the group.

J. P. Brady, news editor of The Press, addressed the roundtable Saturday morning.

Here's One For The Birds . . .

Seated in her living room recently, Mrs. Weimar Jones picked up the morning paper. The first thing she saw was a front page picture of a bird that had been fatally injured in flying through a window pane.

As she started to read the type under the picture, she heard behind her a rhythmic tapping. "A woodpecker on the front porch", she thought; then, "no, it must be in this room."

Before she could turn her head, the bird lit on the newspaper she was holding, right on the bird picture.

Startled, Mrs. Jones jumped a bit, and the bird flew into the kitchen.

It was not a woodpecker, but a wren, and a very well behaved wren, at that. Because, after it finally had flown out the way it had come in, through the slightly ajar front door, she had proof of the bird's appreciation of modern plumbing: The only dropping it had left was in the kitchen sink.

Mrs. Nothstein's Mother Dies Friday

Mrs. M. C. McCormack, 86, mother of Mrs. W. L. Nothstein, of Franklin, died Oct. 11 in an Asheville hospital.

A native of Camden, S. C., she lived in Asheville for the past 39 years. She was a frequent visitor here.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Nothstein, are another daughter, Mrs. G. Latta Clement, of Asheville; two sons, Marvin A. Latham, of Oakland, Calif., and John Brooks McCormack, of New York

City; and two brothers, William Parker and Brooks Parker, both of Seattle, Wash.
