FOR SOCIAL SECURITY — During January, Farmers Must Report Wages Paid

During the month of January, all farmers will be required to report the cash wages paid in 1957 to each of their farm workers covered by the social security law, Arnold L. Walz, acting manager of the Asheville Social Security office, announced this week.
 Any farm worker who was paid cash wages of $150 or more in 1957 by a farm employer must be reported by the employer on this yearly return. Even if cash wages paid to a farm worker were less than $150, he must be reported if he worked for the employer on part of 20 days or more in 1957, and was paid on a time basis — by the hour, day, week, or month.
 Mr. Walz emphasized that in addition to the amount of cash wages paid to each covered worker, the return must show each worker's social security number and name exactly as shown on his official social security card. It is important that these farm wages be reported correctly. Eligibility and the amount of all retirement, disability, and survivors payments under social security are based on the record of earnings credited to the individual's account. A loss of some or all benefits could result from failure to report a farm worker's wages completely.

 Farm employers who previously filed returns or registered as new employers during the year will automatically be sent forms for making the 1957 reports. Completed returns and employment taxes due should be set to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Greensboro, North Carolina.
 Free booklets explaining the duties of farm employers and describing the social security benefits for farm workers and self-employed farmers can be requested from the Asheville Social Security office.

Hints To HOMEMAKERS

CONTROL COST—Make the most of what you buy. Avoid, wilt, decay, bruises soft spots, and other imperfections; but not all skin flaws mean poor quality.

Fruits and vegetables are sometimes marked down because they will soon be unsalable. They may be good buys if you can use them promptly.
 Compare costs of fresh, canned, dried, and frozen fruits and vegetables. Check by the cost per serving. For instance, you may find that frozen peas cost twice as much for each serving as canned tomatoes or fresh carrots. Prices vary, so each shopper must do her own comparing. Of course, it depends on the type vegetable you want.

 Cook with skins on when possible. In paring potatoes, carrots, apples, peaches, pears, and other foods use a peeler or sharp knife to lose as little of the food as possible.
 Don't be ruthless in trimming such vegetables as asparagus, cauliflower, cabbage, lettuce, broccoli. Use outer stalks and leaves of celery in soups, mixed vegetables, casseroles, gravies and cream sauce.
 Read labels to make sure you are getting the best return for your money. When you buy breads, flours and cereals, be sure "enriched" or "restored" or "whole-grain" is imprinted on the labels. You get more B-vitamins and minerals for your money. Buy breads made with milk for additional food value.
DOUBLE DUTY — Peccolators can be made to give a lot of extra service in making instant coffee, hot malted milks, tea, cocoa, and consume from bouillon cubes.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What's the outlook for tobacco in 1958?

A. Domestic use of tobacco is not likely to increase over last year due partially to the new ways of processing tobacco for cigarettes. Flue-cured tobacco will be supported at 90 per cent of parity. Because of 1957's short crop (down 32.5 per cent from 1956)—and for other reasons—prices should average well above the support level in 1958.

Q. When will the 1958 Township Farm Census be taken and what are some of the questions farmers are likely to be asked?

A. The annual census will be taken in January when farmers list their 1958 taxes. Questions will include: total acreage for each track of land over three acres, number of acres from which crops were harvested in 1957, number of acres of idle crop land, improved pasture, data on individual crops, cattle, hogs, and chickens. The information is held in confidence.

Q. What are some good winter management tips for North Carolina poultrymen?

A. Water is absolutely necessary for layers to do their best. Provide two five-gallon waterers with at least 200 inches of trough space for each 300 layers. It's a good idea to place one oyster shell feeder by each waterer.
