

2 Leathernecks From Franklin In Fleet Assault

Two Marines from Franklin, Pfc. Billy J. Tallent and Cpl. Thomas W. Angel, have been taking part in a major Atlantic Fleet amphibious exercise off the coast of North Carolina with the 2nd Marine Division from Camp Lejeune.

Cpl. Angel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Angel and is married to the former Miss Margaret R. Holden, of Franklin. Pfc. Tallent is the husband of the former Miss Barbara J. Pressley, of Franklin, Route 4. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Tallent, of Franklin.

The exercise, designed to train the Marines in modern amphibious warfare, got under way March 13 when the Leathernecks boarded ships at Norfolk, Va., Morehead City, and Vieques, Puerto Rico. Following preliminary landings by helicopter, the main amphibious assault landing was made March 22 on Onslow Beach, N. C. The exercise closed March 31 after a week of operations ashore.

Speed, dispersal, mobility, and the use of atomic weapons were stressed by the 30,000 Marines, 10,000 sailors, 60 ships, and 260 aircraft taking part in the operation, according to the Fleet Home Town News Center.

Draft-Age Men May Now Enlist In Army For Two-Year Period

M/Sgt. Pace, the local Army recruiter, announced this week that young men of draft age who are classified in I-A can enlist in the U. S. Army for two years.

Men enlisting under this program will have the same service obligation as an inductee.

The best feature of this program, he said, is that a man may leave any day he chooses, or he can enlist and be deferred for a period of 120 days.

Men interested in this program can receive further information from M/Sgt. Pace.

corn, they wouldn't be running as great a risk growing corn as they would growing a crop with which they have had no experience.

If you plant corn, which kind should you plant? Mr. Rice says it should be a certified first generation hybrid seed, which he says, normally produces 20 per cent more grain than open-pollinated or second generation hybrid seed. Certified hybrids also have stronger stalks, greater weevil resistance, drought resistance and lower ear placement.

WEEK IS CELEBRATED — Hudson Library Has Served Highlands Some 70 Years

HIGHLANDS — A tea was held at the Hudson Library March 22 to celebrate "National Library Week."

Hostesses for the event were officers of the library and the library staff.

The library has been serving the Highlands community for more than 70 years. It had its origin in a box of books which was sent to Highlands by friends in Massachusetts as a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Ella Hudson. Her sister, Mrs. Louisa E. Wells, a pioneer settler, was instrumental in founding the library. Shortly afterwards, in 1884, a group of Highlands citizens formed the Hudson Library Association to conduct the affairs of the library. S. T. Kelsey, founder of Highlands, was the library's first president.

In the beginning the books were kept in a closed bookcase in the original Highlands schoolhouse, and then for a number of years in a small annex. Since 1915, the library has been housed in the present library building next to the Episcopal church.

During all these years the library has been maintained by membership dues, by contributions both of money and books, and by funds raised by various benefits. It receives no tax support.

From its beginning to the present time the library has given reading pleasure to the residents of Highlands and the vicinity, as well as to the summer residents and visitors. Before the days of the Fontana Regional Library, the Hudson Library played an important role in supplying reading matter to all sections of Highlands township.

The library is one of the regular stops of the bookmobile. A varying number of books is borrowed at each visit according to the demand, and these books are most helpful in supplementing the books of the Hudson Library.

Miss Gertrude Harbison is librarian.

Corn Is Dual Crop, Excluding 'Lightning'

Corn is a dual purpose crop. And despite the thinking of quite a few Tar Heels, "white lightning" isn't one of them.

John C. Rice, director of the N. C. Crop Improvement Association, points out that corn can be sold as a cash crop or fed to livestock. As for the latter, he feels that continued growth of the state's livestock industry is largely dependent upon the ability of North Carolina farmers to produce corn.

Mr. Rice points out that demand for livestock is on the increase. But the state can't expand its hog, beef cattle or poultry production on a sound basis without providing ample supply of feed. And

ATTENTION ALL MILITARY AND CIVILIAN PERSONNEL STATIONED AWAY FROM HOME

To all the men and women from W. N. C. who are now serving in the Armed Forces, and to civilian employees connected with the Armed Forces or the Federal Government—inside or outside the country—may I, as one citizen, express my thanks and admiration to you. I urge you to use your right for absentee voting.

Military personnel may obtain a Federal card from their C. O. to make application to vote. For those who do not get a Federal card, members of their immediate families can make application for them.

As of today a record breaking five candidates are in the Congressional race and it may come to a run-off primary. If you make the necessary arrangements to vote in the May 31st primary this will enable you also to vote in the run-off primary June 28th.

I am a candidate for the nomination to represent the 12th district, Haywood, Buncombe, Clay, Cherokee, Graham, Jackson, Swain, Henderson, Transylvania and Macon, in Congress. (The law does not require it, but I would look favorably upon your voting for Rollman for Congress.)

If your son or daughter can take advantage of absentee voting, why not cut this out and send it to him or her?
